U.S. SENATE CONSIDERS VOTE FOR CANADIANS

$40,000,000 a Year Paid From Treasury As B.C. Taxes Rise

Tolmie Government in First Two and One-half Years Spent Between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000, Pattullo Tells Big Liberal Meeting; Conservative Members Go Back on Pre-election Promises; To Build Greatest Party Machine Yet Seen in B.C. Under Liquor Act.

"I believe the public views with astonishment, amounting almost to bewilderment, the very heavy increase in public expenditure and the consequent increase in taxation," said T. D. Pattullo, Liberal leader, at the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce last night, when he reviewed the work of the last session of the Legislature.

"Someone asked the other day, 'What is the matter with those fellows over there?' " Mr. Pattullo went on. "I will tell you what is the matter with them. They are inherited with the power of authority and are running amuck."

"They said when they were running for office that taxes would be reduced and some taxes would be eliminated. But they have raised taxation and are now embarked on the expenditure of $40,000,000 a year. In their first two and one-half years in office they will have spent between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000."

MONEY POURING OUT
They criticized us for asking questions. Well, we didn't go over there to divide our fingers. We went over there to divide into matters of public interest for the protection of the public."

"Extravagance begins with the Prime Minister himself, in his own office. He also created the largest cabinet B.C. has ever had, and its most inefficient."

BUILDING GREAT POLITICAL MACHINE

"Under the new Liquor Control Act they are starting to build up the biggest political machine this Province has ever known."

William Kinsman, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, introduced Mr. Pattullo.

"We glory in the wonderful fight Mr. Pattullo put up at the last session of the Legislature on behalf of the taxpayers of this Province, and in time his criticism will be taken home by the voters," Mr. Kinsman said.

George S. Pearson, M.P.P. of Nanaimo, also spoke.

"I would like to make clear just exactly what the present financial situation is," Mr. Pattullo said. "I am going to refer to the year 1916, when our administration took office, and by following briefly the course of events from then until now make clear the present status of affairs."

TWO DIE IN FARM FIGHT

Meilville, Sask., April 9.—Midnight gun play in a farm-yard near Meilville had claimed two lives to-day and sent four persons injured to a hospital. Mr. John Grabowski succumbed late last night to bullet wounds suffered in a pitched battle early yesterday. Mike Bilarski, who farmed near by, died at the time of the shooting affray.

Those in hospital are John Grabowski, his two sons William and Charles, and Stanley Stokowski, hired man. Mrs. Grabowski was wounded as she stood in the doorway of her home. The Grabowski farm was set on fire and two dozen head of cattle were burned to death. The two sons of Grabowski and the hired man remained to the scene, but fell under a rain of gun fire.

JAIL TERM FOR SCALE FIXING

Grain Act Amendment Approved by Committee of Dominion House

Ottawa, Ont., April 9.—Tampering with grain scales is to be punishable by imprisonment without the alternative of a fine. The term of incarceration is to be not less than six months. An amendment to the effect was passed in the agriculture committee of the House of Commons this morning during consideration of the Grain Act.

The reading of the amendments that any person, in control of grain scales on behalf of the licensee, who refuses to allow the inspection of the scales shall be liable for the term of imprisonment mentioned. The clause is originally drafted for the purpose of allowing the inspection of the scales of the committee were of the opinion that a fine would not meet the case. A number of less important provisions were approved.

BIRKENHEAD ILL

Birkenhead, France, April 9.—The Earl of Birkenhead, former Secretary of State for India in the last British Conservative Government, was said to-day to be progressing slowly. His doctors say there is no serious apprehension for his condition. He is suffering from a broken blood vessel. At noon his physicians said Lord Birkenhead's condition was "satisfactory." There was no fever.

CITY MEMBERS INTERESTED IN BEAUTIFICATION

Reginald Hayward and James Beatty Meet City's Special Committee

Talk Over Plans For Grant By Government to Victoria For Improvements

A clear-cut explanation of the proposals in connection with the capital city grant were laid before Reginald Hayward and James H. Beatty, city members in the provincial legislature yesterday afternoon by Alderman W. T. Straith and a special committee of the City Council fostering the plan. Mr. Hayward and Mr. Beatty were much interested in the proposals.

The conference took place at the City Hall and was attended by Aldermen Straith, Cullin, Smith and Worthington, members of the council's special committee on the capital city plan. The committee explained the object of the proposals that are being advanced, and went into figures as to the cost of upkeep in city parks, boulevards and other improvements on a scale commensurate with the importance of the capital of the Province.

INVITE ACTION

The proposals invite action by the provincial government to duplicate in Victoria the plan followed by the national government at Ottawa.

Taxation on provincial government property within the city, now tax exempt, would amount to some $80,000 a year, it was shown. Being the capital also entailed added duties in respect to a proper upkeep of public services on a scale not borne by other centres in the Province. Total tax exemptions within the city amount to twenty-seven per cent of the assessed value of all property here, of which the provincial government holdings amount to over four per cent.

The Dominion Government meets this situation in Ottawa by an annual grant to a voluntary commission for the general improvement of the Canadian capital. The Ottawa grant is now said to be in the neighborhood of $25,000 a year, and is paid to a voluntary commission which has power to issue bonds against a consolidated loan over a ten-year period. Under such a scheme many improvements of public benefits have been instituted since the inception of the plan, before 1900.

While Victoria in common with all B.C. municipalities shares in the various government grants in aid of teachers salaries, motor licenses, mutual receipts and liquor profits, no special recognition is made of its added duties as a capital, it was pointed out.

Further conferences are to be held.

Mexican Rebels Die Shouting Defiance

Mexico City, April 9.—Dispatches from Durango to-day said that the rebel leaders, Juan Rodriguez and Luis Betancourt had been executed by a firing squad after a summary court-martial at the village of Ferreria, just over the line in the state of Zacatecas.

The rebels refused to allow their eyes to be bandaged and died shouting defiance. Their capture and execution followed a skirmish near Ferreria in which Federal troops routed 100 rebels.

PATTULLO SUMMARIZES FIGHT OF OPPOSITION

Mr. Pattullo, at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last night, summarized as follows the fight the Liberal Opposition put up at the last session of the British Columbia Legislature:

- "We fought against unjustifiable expenditures."
- "We fought against increase of taxation."
- "We fought against the depriving of municipalities of their proper share of motor license fees and liquor profits."
- "We fought against appointment of partisan commissions."
- "We fought against the withholding of reports of commissions and auditors."
- "We fought against ruthless dismissal of tried and honorable public servants, and fastening of the stigma of dishonor upon some of them."
- "We fought against appointments to office of incompetent partisans."
- "We fought against improvident alienation of our natural resources."
- "We fought against the desecration of the University Endowment lands."
- "We fought against political control of our splendid university."
- "We fought against wholesale purchase without tender."
- "We fought against the secret sale of bonds."
- "We fought against making a partisan machine of the Liquor Control Board."
- "We fought against the monopolies to be created under the Highway Act."
- "We fought against the depriving of thousands of fishermen of their rights and privileges."
- "We fought against unfair allotment of public expenditures in the different constituencies, as Ministers are spending more public money in their own private constituencies than in constituencies of private members."
- "We fought against wanton and reckless waste and extravagance."
- "We fought against incorrect and inaccurate answers to the House."
- "We fought against the arrogance and insolence of authority in withholding public information."

Kaye Don Considers Bringing Racer to Long Beach Sands

Is Considering Invitation From Nanaimo Board of Trade to Try Out Famous Beach on West Coast of Vancouver Island; Noted Driver Thanks Board for Offer of Course.

Nanaimo, April 9.—Kaye Don, famous British automobile racer, will consider using Long Beach, Vancouver Island, as the scene of future attempts to win the world's speed laurels. Word to this effect was yesterday placed before the Nanaimo Board of Trade at its annual meetings and aroused much enthusiasm.

Don telegraphed the Board of Trade from Daytona Beach, Florida, expressing warmest appreciation of the suggestion from Nanaimo that Long Beach be utilized. The proposal was sent to the Nanaimo Board of Trade by the board, together with a description of the unique advantages which Long Beach offered for automotive tests of speeds which would be extremely dangerous except when conditions were perfect.

The Nanaimo board called to the attention of Don that perfect track conditions were the most essential factors for success in his effort to wrest the world's speed record from Major Sir Henry Segrave, as was shown by the fact that Malcolm Campbell took his speed to a lonely South African lake-bed to secure the condition desired. The advantages of Long Beach were summarized and the aid of the board offered in the event that the tests were transferred to Vancouver Island.

Canada's Triumph at Vimy Ridge Is Recalled To-day

COLLEGE EXAMS START FRIDAY

Local School Closes on Wednesday, April 23; Results Expected Early in May

Final examination at the Victoria College will commence on Friday afternoon and continue until April 23, when the school will close for the year. It was announced by the registrar to-day.

The tests will include all subjects taken during the year and will govern the promotion of students in the school.

On Wednesday evening, April 23, the student body will draw its activities to a close with a social gathering. Results of the examinations will not be known until after the morning meeting of the senate of the University of British Columbia early in May.

TO CONSIDER RADIO REPORT

Evidence Will Be Given Before Ottawa Parliamentary Committee

Ottawa, Ont., April 9.—The announcement that instead of bringing in a bill at once to implement the report of the radio commission, the report itself would be referred direct to a committee of the House of Commons made by Hon. P. J. A. Cerdin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in the House of Commons yesterday, was the subject of some comment last night. A committee will be named in a day or two to take up the recommendation of the commission and hearing evidence to be submitted. The report recommended public ownership of radio broadcasting, and as there is great difference of opinion throughout the country, the evidence submitted before the parliamentary committee will no doubt be extensive.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR EX-GREEK DICTATOR

GENERAL THEODOROS PANGALOS

GREEK DICTATOR IS HUMILIATED

Pangalos Gets Prison Term and Loses All Political Rights

Athens, April 9.—General Theodoros Pangalos, who became dictator of Greece in January, 1926, and was elected President several months later, only to fall from power in August, has been condemned to two years imprisonment with loss of political rights by a senatorial commission appointed to inquire into certain acts of his dictatorship.

He was tried particularly for his part in alleged abuses in connection with gambling concessions granted to a Greek company at Rhodes. His former cabinet minister, M. Vogiopoulos, was sent to prison for two and one-half years for his share in the same affair.

HAS SERVED TERM

As General Pangalos has already undergone two and one-half years of preventive detention the sentence is virtually ineffective, but it is expected he will be deprived of his rank as general.

The government of General Pangalos was overthrown by a group led by General Kondylis in August, 1926. Pangalos being arrested at Spetses and imprisoned on an island.

In 1928 he was sentenced to answer charges of high treason, but was freed by the government of Premier Venizelos.

SERVICES FOR SWEDISH QUEEN

King Gustav Moved to Tears at Impressive Ceremony at Rome

Rome, April 9.—Funeral services for Queen Victoria of Sweden were held to-day in the German Evangelical church here in the presence of her husband, King Gustav, Prince William and Princess Ingrid of Sweden, the King and Queen of Italy and Premier Mussolini.

The body of the Queen was not at the services, but was carried later from the Villa Speria, where she died last Friday at the age of sixty-eight, to a special funeral train which, with King Gustav, Prince William and Princess Ingrid aboard, departed for Stockholm.

The church was hung with black and was decorated with wreaths and palms. The Swedish pastor from Paris recited the funeral service.

Others present included the Duke and Duchess of Hesse, Princess Giovanna of Italy and members of the Italian and Swedish courts. A number of ambassadors also were there.

The music included a German chant which Queen Victoria in her lifetime loved greatly. After reading the gospel the Swedish pastor spoke commemorative words for her virtues. King Gustav was moved to tears, wiping his eyes with black kid gloved hands.

After the service he thanked the sovereigns and Premier Mussolini for their attendance.

FRANCE FIRM IN REFUSING NAVAL PARTY

Demands Superiority of 240,000 Tons Over Italy

Japan Clears Way For Complete Accord on Three-power Pact

Canadian Press

France created a sensation in naval conference circles to-day by putting into concrete terms for the first time her attitude toward Italy's claim for parity.

Some well-informed sources in the French Ministry of Marine, who said in authoritative quarters to have told Mr. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the British Admiralty, that not only would France never concede parity, but that she demands a superiority of 240,000 tons over her Latin neighbor.

Meanwhile Italy has not budged from her oft-repeated demand that she must have parity or nothing.

Observers this afternoon were watching closely what effect this latest French position would have on Italian headquarters especially since it is felt in conference circles that relations between these two delegations have been somewhat strained.

Some well-informed persons believed it might easily have the effect of demonstrating that there was no longer need of striving for a five-power agreement, thus permitting the quick signing of a three-power pact. It might at least clarify the situation, they felt, even though there might be an adverse effect on the results of the conference.

The Japanese withdrew their request that they be allowed to transfer 20,000 tons from destroyers to submarines this afternoon, and thereby reached a complete accord with Great Britain and the United States on all points excepting a minor definition concerning training ships.

HOUSE EXTENDS EASTER RECESS

Dominion Parliament to Enjoy Rest From April 11 to 28

Ottawa, April 9.—The parliamentary Easter recess has been extended. The recess was to cover the period from Friday, April 11 to Thursday, April 24. On a motion of the Prime Minister the time has now been extended from April 11 to Monday, April 28.

To Sir George Perley (Conservative, Argenteuil) Premier King said the House would rise at 6 o'clock, Friday, April 11, for the recess. Again there was no discussion on the motion.

A further motion by George Black (Conservative, Yukon) for a return showing "the treaty, agreement or arrangement either between Japan and Canada or otherwise whereby Japanese immigration to Canada is controlled, defined, limited or restricted," was passed.

The Prime Minister then moved the following motion:

"That it is expedient that Parliament do approve of the declaration under Article 36 of the statute of the Permanent Court of International Justice, signed at Geneva in respect of the Dominion of Canada, on the 26th day of September, 1928, and that this House do approve of the same."

Premier King proceeded to make a statement on the signing of the optional clause, which Parliament was now asked to approve.

The resolution asks for approval of the signature by Canada of the optional clause of the Permanent Court of International Justice. The optional clause had been approved by the Government in the United Kingdom. Its provisions included that when a dispute between nations could not be satisfactorily settled by diplomacy, such a dispute should be submitted for arbitration to the world court.

The Prime Minister read the various articles to the court, and the interpretation of these articles in relation to jurisdiction. Adherence to the court would insure that disputes would receive a direct decision on the point at issue, and under Article 13 would be obliged to give effect to that judgment.

GANDHI ON NEW FRONT

Followers Sing Seditious Songs as He Violates Indian Salt Law

Bombay, India, April 9.—One hundred volunteers to-day broke the salt laws with collection of salt while ten others collected salt. At Madras it was said the law was broken at Cocanada, where a number of Gandhi's followers manufactured salt. A message from Masulipatnam said that contraband salt was distributed at meetings there.

Passengers at Malabar railway station near Jubbulpore, were thrown into a panic to-day when a man, Rana Ranjit Jung, entered an overcrowded compartment in a waiting train with a loaded gun and chased the occupants onto the platform. He fired, killing four persons and wounding two. He was overpowered and arrested.

Delhi, April 9.—Davis Das Gandhi, son of Mahatma Gandhi, was arrested at Salempur to-day with Ankaner Lal, president of the district congress, and twenty-three other salt volunteers while manufacturing salt. Police marched the prisoners to Meerut.

Another son of the Mahatma was arrested several days ago at Bhimnagar for breaking the salt laws and yesterday was sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment.

The nationalist leader himself, however, has not yet been molested despite his personal breaking of the salt law.

Surat, Bombay, India, April 9.—Moving to a new waterfront, Mahatma Gandhi presented his doctrine of civil disobedience and passive resistance to British authority to-day at Bhimnagar.

Villagers listened attentively and hailed him. "Long Live Gandhi," when he walked into lands inundated by the tides and collected salt in violation of the British monopoly.

Each then followed suit, taking a small quantity of salt from the manly land. A striking feature of the demonstration was a chorus which sang seditious songs.

"Great news, Mary! I've just fixed it so we'll be independent at sixty. No money troubles—no worries—comfort and happiness for you and the kids, no matter what happens!"

"How did I do it? Simply by taking out the New Great-West Prosperity Policy. You bet I'm feeling good. Be home in twenty minutes to tell you all about it."

THE GREAT-WEST "PROSPERITY" POLICY

is a new plan specially designed for men who desire early financial independence. Example: Man, aged 25, deposits $313.50 annually. In the event of death, his family inherits the full benefits.

The New Great-West "Prosperity" plan affords special disability privileges and numerous other appealing features. Write for information.

$40,000,000 A YEAR PAID FROM TREASURY AS B.C. TAXES RISE

BUDGET PROPOSALS OF 1916

"It will be recalled that we came into office November, 1916, and for the balance of the financial year, ending March 31, 1917, we operated upon the budget submitted by our predecessors in office. Estimates for the year 1917-18 as printed in the Journals of the House, showed an anticipated revenue of less than $6,000,000, and an anticipated expenditure of over $11,000,000. The actual result, as of March 31, 1917, showed an actual revenue received of $6,500,000, and an actual expenditure of $6,500,000, or a deficit of $3,000,000.

"In years previous to 1916 there had been revenues as high as $12,000,000 by reason of the sale of natural resources of the Province. The boom, which we all recall, had burst, however, and income had dropped accordingly. The boom, which occurred during the period of alienation of our natural resources, resulted in scattered settlements throughout the Province, and, in consequence, the establishment of various functions of government throughout the length and breadth of the Province—schools, hospitals, administration of justice, and all the other functions of government.

"There was also the now time-honored Pacific Great Eastern problem, and the University of British Columbia. The problem of establishment of returned soldiers into the civil life of the Province was also an immediate one.

RE-ESTABLISHED PROVINCIAL CREDIT

"What were we to do to make ends meet? We had either to increase taxes or cut down expenditures. It appeared an exceedingly unwise, and indeed, almost impossible, proposal to withdraw the functions of government from various portions of the Province in order to cut down expenditures, so we set about to strengthen the foundation of the too elaborate superstructure that had been created, and we at once increased taxes.

"And while, immediately prior to our taking office the credit of the Province was at such low ebb, special commissions had to be paid to dispose of the bonds of the Province, when we left office, some twelve years later, the credit of the Province stood as high as any other province in the Dominion, or the Dominion itself.

EXPECTATIONS OF PUBLIC DISAPPOINTED

"It will be recalled that immediately prior to the election of 1923, members of the then opposition—some of whom are members of the present government—assured the people that the government was being conducted too extravagantly, that many expenditures could be cut down, and taxes both eliminated and reduced. There were no 'ifs' or contingencies of any sort about these statements. They were made by men who had been in the House for years, and who had had every opportunity to know just what the financial situation was, as well as the present Prime Minister, and there is no doubt that it is because of the expectations which these statements aroused in the minds of the people that the people now feel shocked at the heavy increase in taxes and taxation by the new administration.

EXPENDITURE UP $3,000,000 ALREADY

"The present administration now allege that it is because of the financial position, as left by our administration, that they have not been able to reduce taxation, but on the contrary are increasing it. It is a very simple matter to disprove this contention upon their own figures.

"The financial year ending March 31 of this year, is one entirely within the administration of the present government. The budget for the year ending March 31 last was prepared by the present government, and it was prepared in the light of full knowledge of the financial situation, as we left it. The budget for the last fiscal year, provided for current expenditure of $25,000,000. For this year the government is providing for an estimated expenditure of over $28,000,000, an increase of $3,000,000, and with this increase of expenditure has come increased taxation.

AUDITORS' REPORTS REFUSED

"During this session they refused to accept either the Price-Waterhouse audit which had been carried out by our administration, or to the Helliwell-McLaughlin audit, which had been carried out by their administration, until after the budget debate was over and the estimates passed. Here we have the spectacle of reports of auditors, paid for by the people, refused to members of the Legislature, until after proceedings of the House are finished.

"They paid $30,000 for their audit and then charged it up to our term of office.

"I do not admit the correctness of representations made by the government as to finances as we left them, because they are wrong. Without admitting, but assuming for argument's sake that government statements as to the financial situation as we left it, are correct, the fact of the matter is that I want to drive this home so that everyone may understand it—that on top of their budget of $25,000,000, which took care of the financial situation as we left it, they added another $3,000,000 current expenditure.

REASON FOR INCREASED TAXATION

"Why are they doing this? They are doing this because last year they embarked upon a very extravagant policy of public works, and they are now, in the light of conditions then existing, and what seemed likely would continue to exist.

"In addition to current expenditures, they last year borrowed $15,000,000, and the programme which they outlined to the House during the past session will involve the borrowing of another $15,000,000 this year.

"This government is, therefore, now spending at the rate of over $40,000,000 a year, and by the time it meets the House next session it will have spent, in the two and one-half years which it will have been in office, between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000.

"At this moment the government has borrowed money under statutory authority, of $24,000,000—$15,000,000 under acts passed this year and $9,000,000 under acts already in existence, or a total of $24,000,000 borrowing powers, which added to $28,000,000 in current expenditure makes a total of $52,000,000.

"They have adopted a grossly extravagant policy.

"I based my computation upon the figures of the government itself, and not upon mere computation of our own, and I now tell you that the figures which I have to-night quoted are beyond refutation.

GOVERNMENT NOT READY

"It will be recalled that Premier Toole announced just before the sitting of the House that the government was ready for the business of the session. Accordingly, as there ensued a well-defined view in the public mind that much time had heretofore been wasted upon the debate on the Address in reply to the speech of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, the opposition decided to curtail the debate, and give the government a chance to submit its measures to the House forthwith. The government was not ready; it brought down a number of minor bills, but for weeks the House did not sit over two hours a day because the government's measures were not ready, including the budget.

"Meantime the opposition introduced some resolutions dealing with matters of public concern. The government press fumed and scolded at the opposition for delaying the business of the House. The resolutions submitted by the opposition had to do with matters of administration, and in instances, had references to gross miscarriage of justice in the treatment of individuals dismissed from the service.

LIQUOR BILL WITHHELD

"The time of no parliament is wasted in attempting to right gross injustice to citizens of the state—I can think of no higher duty than the state re-vealed the government shifting from one excuse to another, each more reprehensible than the former. Had these resolutions not been before the House, the House would have had to adjourn for lack of business, because the government was not ready with its business.

"We saw this evidenced in the fact that innumerable government bills, practically all their important measures—were thrown into the Legislature in the last days of the session. For example, the Government Liquor Bill came in the day before the closing of the session, and coincident with the bringing in of this bill, the government requested the House should close the following day, but the House had been before the House for a month, in order to give the public opportunity to digest it and to make known their views thereon, to the elected representatives of the people. Instead of this course being pursued, the bill was deliberately withheld in order that there would be no opportunity afforded for public outcry against the passage of the measure.

PREMIER HELD BACK WHAT HE WANTED

"Another circumstance that delayed proceedings was that the government would not give information asked for. Public report after public report was asked for by the opposition, but they were not forthcoming, and while the government was finally compelled to accede to some of the requests made, some of the reports ordered by the House to be returned to the House, have not yet been furnished. Notwithstanding what one of the House might be, the Prime Minister took the ground that he would only return what he thought he should return.

"The House is composed of many new members, who obviously, were not familiar with constitutional history or constitutional practice, and were, consequently, unfamiliar with the scope of their authority, and we find the spectacle of a declaration agreed to by government supporters that the government is supreme over the Legislature, and not the Legislature over the government.

EXTRAVAGANCE STARTS WITH PREMIER

"Unless one sat in the House he could not believe the absolute lack of knowledge of several of the ministers concerning the work of their departments, as well as procedure in the House. While the Prime Minister felt impelled at the end of the session to offer excuse in this connection, the fact of the matter is that a great deal of the fault lies with the Prime Minister himself. Many situations arose in which the Prime Minister was obviously nonplussed, and could only move on instructions from the Attorney-General or some other minister.

"The extravagance of this government begins with the Prime Minister's office itself. And then he chose for political reasons the largest and most inefficient cabinet yet.

BUILDING BIGGEST PARTY MACHINE

"We are in the midst of the creation of the most huge partisan machine in the history of this Province. It will be of vast proportions. Its tentacles will reach out from one end of the Province to the other.

"In the old days of the saloon, everyone will recall the part that the hotels and saloons played in the political life of the country. This new Liquor Control Board will now take the place of the hotels and saloons, only upon a much bigger scale.

"The government is also exercising a partisan control over the civil service, and all the outside services of the government with their thousands of employees on temporary work, while appointments to office outside of the civil service, such as stipendiary magistrates, justices of the peace, and similar officers, partisanship is rampant. They have 140 more in the civil service than when we left office, not including outside services.

"You will also find that monopolies will be created under the Industrial Highway Bill, and they will be in the position to buy up whole constituencies.

"All this is going to result in heavy increase in the cost of government, as well as other costs to the people, and already we have ample proof of this statement, for we have greatly increased expenditures, and, as a consequence, increase of taxation.

GRAFT FOR PARTY FRIENDS

"We frequently hear of British Columbia's resources being spoken of as limitless. In a measure they are, but that is all the more reason why the resources of British Columbia should be used for the benefit of all the people, in order to reduce taxation. Instead of that, we find them most improvidently disposed of. For example, eighty-eight acres of forest land, situated off Point Grey in the North Arm of the Fraser, were sold for $5 an acre.

"Charter for a railway in Northern British Columbia was given to party friends, and immediately thereafter sold to the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company.

EXTRAVAGANCE BEGINS AT HOME

"Every branch of the government service shows extravagance, and this extravagance begins in the Prime Minister's own office. I would think nothing of this if there were increase of efficiency throughout the service, but the very reverse is the case, and money is pouring out of the Treasury as never before.

"The Prime Minister has been offering excuses for the ineptitude of the government. Everybody likes the Prime Minister for his human qualities, and none more so than the most violent partisan who says that he is giving to this Province capable and efficient government.

"The government in its extravagance has not hesitated to deplete the municipalities of money which would accrue to them were it not for the change in legislation. Hereafter, no matter what the profits from liquor may be, the amount which will be returned to the municipalities is fixed not to exceed $100,000.

Secretary Advocates Pensions For Blind

Ottawa, Ont., April 9.—Pensions for blind persons living in isolated parts of the country were advocated Monday night before the Canadian Federation of the Blind by D. B. Lawley, traveling secretary of the organization.

There are 7,000 sightless persons in Canada, he said, the majority of whom lost their sight after reaching thirty-five years of age. The handicap, he explained, weighed much heavier on those living in rural areas. He recommended setting up Federal and provincial advisory committees to deal with the welfare of these unfortunate.

Australia To Guard Against Exploitation

Canadian Press via Reuters
Canberra, Aus., April 9.—The Government of the Commonwealth of Australia will not tolerate any tendency, on the part of domestic manufacturers, to take any advantage of the new emergency tariff regulations and will make sure there is no exploitation of the consuming public, stated the Hon. P. M. Ford, Minister without portfolio, to-day. Mr. Ford said the government would appoint a special officer to investigate any cases in which unfair increase in prices was alleged.

The new regulations, announced by proclamation a few days ago, include the placing on a prohibited list of a large number of so-called luxury imports, and provide for a practically prohibitive fifty per cent super tax in the case of many other importations.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CONSTIPATION?

Countless remedies are advertised for constipation. Many relieve for the moment but they are habit forming and must be continued. Others contain calomel and dangerous mineral drugs, which remain in the system, settle in the joints and cause aches and pains. Some are harsh purgatives which cramp and gripe and leave a depressed after effect. Avoid lubricating oils which only grease the intestines and encourage a purely vegetable laxative such as Carter's Little Liver Pills, gently touches the liver, bile starts to flow, the bowels move gently, the intestines are thoroughly cleansed and constipation poisons pass away. The stomach, liver and bowels are now active and the system enjoys a real tonic effect. All druggists 25c and 75c red pkgs. (Adv.)

FRENCH BIRTH RATE

Paris, April 9.—The French birth-rate last year was the lowest since the World War.

Official statistics made public today show an excess of only 12,594

births over deaths as compared with 70,000 last year, which also has been the average for the past seven years. Marriages were slightly fewer, divorces slightly more. Infant mortality was higher, but the big difference was in an increase of more than ten per cent. in deaths over one year.

Nervous Young Women

Nature intended young women to be gay and vivacious. When they start to lose weight, to feel "blue" and dispirited, there is something wrong.

Usually it is simply "nerves"—a condition that can be quickly corrected.

After consideration of the reports, the whole matter will be referred to the annual general meeting of the association in this city, June 25.

The reports to be presented are the result of the gathering of detailed particulars and general information from members of the association engaged in trading with various British countries. Delegates who will be present at the annual meeting from all parts of Canada, will have the opportunity of discussing the Empire and Canada bearings of the question of bringing about closer co-operation in matters of trade among different parts of the Empire. A special session of the annual meeting is being reserved for this discussion in view of its importance in connection with the Imperial Economic Conference in London next September.

Ottawa, April 9.—Suggesting enlarging upon the merits and the weakness of the Power memorandum, which contemplates a complete reorganization of the methods by which pensions are granted to war veterans, occupied the special parliamentary committee on returned soldiers' problems at two sittings yesterday. ### FOOTED BILLS FOR ACTRESS

New York Magnate Said Gifts Totalling $170,000 Represented Philanthropic Spirit

New York, April 9.—Apparently fatigued and at times considerably irritated by the persistent cross-examination to which he was subjected by the defence attorney, Nathan L. Amster, elderly traction magnate, completed tonight his second day on the witness stand in the trial of Olga Kide Edwards, actress. The defendant was indicted for extortion on his complaint.

During the years of their friendship, he said they met, quite by coincidence, although he was paying the bills, in cities and pleasure resorts all over Europe and the United States.

And again, he went over item by item, the sums he had given her and lent her, beginning with $40 in 1917 and ending in 1927 with a $100,000 trust fund for the care and education of the six-year-old boy Miss Edwards had declared in his son.

More than once Amster declared emphatically that the sums of money he gave and lent to Miss Edwards, totalling about $170,000 in all, represented as first, his philanthropic spirit and later his fear that she would annoy his wife and family by charging publicly that he was the father of her child.

Because last fall Miss Edwards violated terms of the trust fund by demanding still more money from him, Amster has said he complained about her to the district attorney. She was arrested after she had accepted marked money from an agent of the district attorney's office.

DIVORCE BILL CREATES SCENE

Amendment Before Ottawa House Gives Ontario Right to Call For Enforcement of Act

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Ont., April 9.—Feeling ran high when the Ontario Divorce Bill was again under consideration in the House of Commons last night. Disorder broke out at times, and as the measure was once more "talked out" during private members' hour, there were cries of "questions" and "order" mingled with the pounding on desks on both sides of the chamber.

Trouble broke out on an amendment that the bill should not come into effect until requested by order-in-council passed by the Ontario government. From the beginning, the motion, presented by A. N. Smith, Liberal, Stormont, encountered stiff opposition. Charges that the amendment was a "subterfuge" and an attempt to avoid responsibility.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, declared he was opposed to the divorce bill, but rather than have the measure forced upon an "unwilling province" he would support the amendment.

The text of the amendment reads: "Upon receipt by the Secretary of State of Canada of a fully certified copy of an order-in-council passed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council of the province of Ontario requesting that this act be brought into force in that province, the Governor-in-Council may by proclamation declare that such act shall come into force on a day to be named in the said proclamation not less than three months after the date of the receipt of such request by the Secretary of State."

SHORT WEIGHT CHARGES LAID

Ontario Magistrate Imposes Fines on Five Chain Stores

St. Thomas, Ont., April 9.—Magistrate Maxwell, in city police court yesterday, delivered what is declared to be the first definite ruling on the Weights and Measures Act of Canada as it applies to chain grocery stores and the practice of prepacking bulk goods. Seven convictions were made against five stores and nominal fines of $5 and $10 in each case were imposed.

Convictions were made against Dominion Stores Limited and Blaw's Groceries Limited, in respect to selling packages of tea found to weigh only sixteen ounces, including the half ounce reported as being weight of each packet or container.

Other charges of selling and delivering goods by weights which were short of the quantity purchased were made against Lowblaw's, Douglas's Stores, Arnold's Market, the T. Eaton Company and R. C. McKenzie, who operates in the Red and White Store chain.

The magistrate held the merchant and not the manager or clerk is responsible in this case. He declared the practice of prepacking bulk goods has grown up by reason of the establishment of chain stores within the last few years, and it was the duty of the merchant to see that allowance was made for shrinkage in their prepacked goods during the time they are standing in the store, and that the customer is given full weight.

TO TEST LEGALITY OF BUYING LIQUOR FROM BOOTLEGGERS

Washington, April 8.—In its effort to decide whether the liquor buyer is equally guilty with the bootlegger, the government, through Attorney-General Mitchell, has filed in the Supreme Court a brief which will be used when the case of James E. Farrer of Boston is reached for oral argument.

The Federal District Court for Massachusetts held the purchase of liquor from a bootlegger was not "prohibited by the Volstead Act," and dismissed the indictment.

EMPIRE ONLY WORLD LEAGUE, CHURCH SAYS

Toronto Member Tells Commons He Would Cut Geneva Vote to Five Cents

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Ont., April 9.—Canada's foreign legations were under fire in the House of Commons last night. Estimates of the Department of External Affairs amounting to $616,487 were being considered in committee. The total includes appropriations for the offices at London, Washington, Paris and Tokyo, as well as for Geneva, where the Dominion maintains an office.

The Prime Minister, in his capacity of Under Secretary of State for External Affairs, was in charge of the estimates, which were approved before the committee rose.

T. L. Church, Conservative member for Northwest Toronto, protested against the policy of opening legations abroad.

"Where is all this going to land this country?" he asked the House. "It is going to land it in a policy of empire disunity."

"What is going to be the net result of all this?" asked Mr. Church. "It will simply mean that Canada will be a separate country independent of the Motherland."

Brief reference to the work performed by Canada's legations was made by the Prime Minister. He informed the House that Sir Esmé Howard, former British ambassador at Washington, had testified to the help given him by Canada's minister there. As far as Tokyo was concerned, the main object of the legation there was to maintain political relations which would be favorable to Canadian trade relations with Japan.

Mr. Church also objected to the vote for Geneva. He suggested that it would be better if J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, came home from London and let Great Britain take care of the naval conference. Also, Canada should mind her own business and keep out of European affairs.

It would be better for Canada to divert its contributions for the League of Nations towards the upkeep of the British navy. The British Empire was the real League of Nations, and all others were "moonshine," said Mr. Church. If he had power he would like to reduce the vote to five cents, and even then he would feel he was giving five cents too much.

In a vote of $21,000 for expenses of Canadian delegates to the League, J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg, commended the Prime Minister for not restricting the personnel of the Canadian delegation to Liberal members.

A VITAL FORCE FOR PEACE

In this connection Miss Agnes MacPhail also voiced her appreciation of the government's action. She was one of the delegates at the last assembly, before going to Geneva, she said, she had been somewhat sceptical as to the value of the league, but she was now convinced that it was a vital force for world peace.

Another delegate to the last assembly, Malcolm McLean, Liberal, Melford, outlined his impression of procedure at Geneva. He thought Canada got valuable advertising through her representation at the league.

Dr. T. E. Kaiser, Conservative, Ontario, contended that legations were costing Canada much more than similar services were costing the United States.

Premier King declared a representative of the government of Canada in a foreign country could promote good relations, keep the government informed of conditions of interest to it and arrange for the settlement of any difficulties which might arise.

One of the most important questions in connection with legation work is the promotion of trade, because international commerce depended to a large extent on political relations. The main object of the legation at Tokyo was to maintain political relations with Japan which would be favorable to Canadian trade.

Relations with Japan were of the best, said Premier King. There was no outstanding difficulties as the question of immigration had been disposed of by agreement.

RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA TOLD

Ottawa, April 9.—Diplomatic relations between Canada and Russia are similar to those existing between the Dominion and other countries, with the exception of those countries in which Canadian legations are located.

This statement was made in the House of Commons last night by Premier W. L. Mackenzie King. He said the Prime Minister stated, had enjoyed certain special diplomatic privileges which had been discontinued several years. The result of the discontinuance of these special privileges, Premier King stated, was that relations with Russia, diplomatically, were on the same footing as with Austria, Italy and such countries. A Canadian desiring to go to Russia, the Prime Minister remarked, could secure his passport in Ottawa and have it vised by Russian authorities.

The question was raised by J. S.

From Soup to LIFE SAVERS

Life Savers, Ltd., Prescott, Ont.

Gentlemen:

My husband is now a pronounced disciple of the after dinner alert habit. And he is duly grateful to me for having suggested his using Pop-O-Mint Life Savers in this way.

He declares that they are really "life savers" after eating, for they take away that heavy, full feeling which often comes after a good hearty meal. He says that, as far as he is concerned, the saying "Soup to Nuts" is no longer descriptive of the dinner menu. It should be "Soup to Life Savers."

And, by the way, this wholesome habit has spread to the other members of the family, so little mints of yours to be a real aid to eating enjoyment.

Yours sincerely,

Frances B. Dufont.

BARING THE FACTS

ONE OF THE MOST SERIOUS COMPLAINTS which Mr. T. D. Pattullo has felt it his duty to make against the Tolmie government is the manner in which it is conducting the financial affairs of the province—its increased expenditures, its heavy borrowings, and its new taxation policies to raise still further revenue. In his instructive and comprehensive address at last night's public meeting in the Chamber of Commerce he very properly dealt at some length with this aspect of the business transacted at the recent session of the Legislature.

The opposition leader reminded his audience that in the election campaign of 1928 the Conservative candidates based their appeal for support at the polls very largely upon a promise of lower taxation if Dr. Tolmie should be returned with a following sufficiently large to permit him to form a government. Their programme included an immediate reduction of the public debt, a cut in the income tax, abolition of the succession duties, lower annual expenditures, and less borrowing. All the electorate had to do to insure these things being carried out was to defeat the MacLean government. As Mr. Pattullo suggests, it is highly probable that the people of the province who permitted themselves to be impressed with these promises are not only bitterly disappointed, but alarmed at the financial policies of the government—policies which obviously already have dissipated any prospect of lower taxation or even a balanced budget at the next session of the Legislature.

Mr. Pattullo made it clear to his audience that at the rate the administration is spending and borrowing it will have expended between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000 after two and one-half years of office. Take the estimated expenditure for the current fiscal year. It exceeds $28,000,000, or approximately $3,000,000 more than the present government's expenditure in the last fiscal year. The amount of borrowing last year totaled $15,000,000, and power to borrow $15,000,000 this year was taken during the recent session. Here is the plain explanation of an annual expenditure of $40,000,000 a year, yet the estimated revenue, as set forth in Mr. Shelly's budget, for the current fiscal year is just a little more than $28,000,000.

Nor does this by any means tell the whole story of the government's unbalanced financial policy as it relates to fresh spending. By increasing the gasoline tax it expects to obtain extra revenue amounting to $800,000, which, by the way, will be paid into the Consolidated Revenue Fund, and not earmarked for highway purposes, a departure in policy naturally resented by the motoring public. Mr. Shelly's budget also stipulated that in future the share of the liquor profits formerly allocated to the municipalities will be limited to $1,000,000, no matter how much these profits may grow from year to year. Similarly the constant growing revenue from motor vehicle licenses will not benefit the municipalities, since in future the return they are to receive from this source is to be limited to $570,000.

Hence, as Mr. Pattullo pointed out to his audience, not only has there been no reduction in taxation, but an increase in taxation; while budgeting for increased expenditures, taking authority for heavy borrowings, simply means that if next year's accounts are to be balanced and the public debt reduced, the government will be compelled to raise the additional revenue by new taxation. This is the serious situation with which the taxpayers are confronted.

THE CHEMIST AND WAR

EXPERTS AND OTHERS HAVE DECLARED many times during the last few years that if there should be another war on a major scale, it would be fought with horrors worse than anything used in the last great conflict. It has been said that whole cities would be laid waste by airplanes dropping bombs containing deadly gases and various kinds of germs. Modern inventions, the research of scientists, lend color to such predictions.

In regard to gas, however, an eminent chemist has jumped into the controversy with the suggestion that "there is more nonsense talked about gas in the next war than anything else." His more explicit charge is that some opponents of what is politely called "chemical warfare," in their efforts to discourage the use of gas, represent that weapon as far more potent than science has yet been able to make it. His point is that gas shells are effective only within a limited range and that if the most powerful example at present invented "were to burst within seventy-five yards of you, unless you were hit by splinters, you would be perfectly safe."

This contention would appear to have no regard for the fact that the aim of any bombardment is not to space out the shells at safe intervals, but to concentrate them with the maximum damage to life and property; and if you should happen to be within the effective range of a gas shell, it would not be much consolation to you to know that if you had been somewhere else, you would have been "perfectly safe."

It may be agreed that the existing resources of chemistry make the picture of whole suburbs laid low by two or three gas bombs dropped from the air an effort of imagination, but that is a long way from agreeing that gas is a desirable development in modern warfare. It remains a cruel and insidious addition to the horrors of war—and it may be pointed out that it is not philanthropy which at present restricts the effective range of the gas shell, but only an existing inability of chemistry to keep pace with combative intentions.

If chemical efficiency can be increased, there will be no lack of it will if another big war should have to be fought. The only horrors that we would be spared would be those that we could not achieve.

OPPORTUNITY STILL LIVES

DO NOT LET ANY PESSIMIST SERIOUSLY argue that the age of opportunity has passed, that there is nothing left for personal enterprise and individual achievement under the present regime of what is known as Big Business.

In 1916 O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, two brothers in Cleveland, turned from the real estate business to railroading. Raking all the cash they could command and stretching their credit to the limit, they bought the then broken-down Nickel Plate railroad. Railwaymen say there may have been a worse railroad in the United States, but they are doubtful.

To-day these same brothers can board a train at Bay View, in the northern part of the Michigan peninsula, and ride to Brownsville, Tex., on the Mexican border, without once leaving railroads they either own or control. They can also board a train at New York and ride to Salt Lake City, Utah, over similar lines—and continue on from there to San Francisco over a road that is very friendly to their interests. In fourteen years they acquired an 18,000-mile, $2,000,000,000 network of rail lines that eclipses the mileage of systems associated with such well-known names in United States railway history as Hill, Harriman, Vanderbilt and Gould.

The story of these remarkable brothers—one now forty-nine and the other fifty-two—has been told many times, but it grows so rapidly that it must be retold at frequent intervals to keep it up to date. Their latest achievement has been the acquisition of control of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad which rounded out a railroad empire that is one of the largest dominated by private interests.

There are only two railroad systems in the world that are longer than the Van Sweringens' 18,000-mile network. One is the Canadian National, with about 20,000 miles, and the other the German State Railways, about 30,000 miles.

Here are some mileage comparisons with American railroads: Pennsylvania, 10,466 miles; New York Central, 6,911 miles; Baltimore and Ohio, 5,639 miles; Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe, 12,383 miles; Union Pacific, 9,857 miles; Southern Pacific, 13,599 miles; Great Northern, 8,409 miles; Northern Pacific, 6,771 miles. The mileages of the various railroads now controlled by the Van Sweringens are: Chesapeake and Ohio, 2,735; Pere Marquette, 2,244; Erie, 2,316; Nickel Plate, 1,690; Wheeling and Lake Erie, 511; Missouri Pacific, 7,461; Chicago and Eastern Illinois, 945.

The familiar story that the Van Sweringens brothers began life as newsboys is not true, but their start in the business world was far from auspicious. Both are self-made. Their entrance into the railroad field resulted from a desire to obtain a street car line from Cleveland to a suburban real estate section that they were developing. Discussions about tracking rights on the Nickel Plate caused the young real estate dealers to enter the field of transportation. They revived the decaying Nickel Plate and began a series of mergers, the end of which apparently is not yet.

To-day they have their offices high up in the lofty tower of Cleveland's new terminal station which they built and which, with connecting developments, is said to have cost more than the Panama Canal. 'Here is proof that the day of individual opportunity has not passed. It is here just as much to-day as it was in 1916 when the Van Sweringens grasped their opportunity.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

NATIONAL BROADCASTING
The Sherbrooke Tribune

It would be wrong to make of this question an excuse to say that the state is trying to put its hands on the radio broadcasting business, for the nationalization of the radio appears at the present time to be the most effective remedy for the transmission of programmes of miserable quality, mixed up with annoying announcements, which are now offered to countless radio fans in the province and in Canada.

It may be interesting to hear from one who has been recently in Russia. His experience of public worship there, Mr. H. E. Metcalf, the well-known London business man, who was in Russia in December, tells me that he attended Sunday service at the cathedrals of Moscow and Leningrad and that worship was carried on as usual, with no interference from the authorities. Both cathedrals were crowded, and in both cases the worshippers seemed elderly men and women, and there was a noticeable absence of young people. Other churches were open in both cities, but as the proper grounds in Europe about the Soviet and religion had not then started it did not occur to Mr. Metcalf to make inquiries.

CONIVANCE IN SMUGGLING
The Manitoba Free Press

The public can, perhaps, follow the make-believe of this astounding performance. The Dominion government knows that this liquor is for export, and so labels it; but, in order that it may exempt it from the regulations governing export, as Mr. King says explicitly, "only liquor that is sold for consumption in Canada pays an excise tax." The Ontario government cannot, under the law, permit private parties to pay the excise tax and take liquor out of the bonded warehouse; but it permits that to be done in the case of this liquor because it is not released for domestic consumption, but for export. Thus, the liquor released for private consumption and also for export moves in stately procession from the distillery to its appointed place on the export dock, accompanied on the right by the out-riders of the Department of National Defence, and on the left by the obsequious attendants representing the Liquor Commission of the Province of Ontario. Arrived at the dock, it is turned over to American hum runners, bootleggers, thugs and gangsters, who, with the connivance, co-operation and official blessing of Canada move off in the darkness on the noble errand of smuggling into the United States—a friendly country with which we have a treaty which bears this title:

Treaty of the suppression of smuggling operations along the international boundary between the Dominion of Canada and the United States and assisting in the arrest and prosecution of persons violating the narcotic laws of either government and for kindred purposes.

Loose Ends

A column on marriage—how to make a success of it by shaving early in the morning—how Nature itself is working for its progress—and the courts of Iowa work in vain against it.

By H. B. W.

THIS IS a deadly earnest column on marriage. If people make a failure of marriage now-a-days they cannot blame it on lack of advice. The printing presses of the world are pouring marital counsel out in an unending stream and have lately contributed a classic on this great theme. It is a book by that well-known lady, Peggy Upton Archer Hopkins Joyce Morner called "Men, Marriage and Me." As you would expect, Peggy's book is a racy account of her adventures in matrimony, including her elopement with a circus bicycle rider, her two days of happy married life with a Mr. Archer, her three months of conjugal life with a Mr. Hopkins, her brief association with Mr. Joyce (of whose money she spent nearly $1,000,000 in a week), and her six weeks' happiness with Count Costa Morner.

WITH SUCH a background, you will agree, Peggy should speak with authority on matrimony, and she does. I thus mention what she says here for the benefit of husbands who are anxious to hold the affections of their wives. Of the ten imperatives which she sets out for such husbands this seems to be the most important: "He must get up first in the morning and not let me see him until he has shaved. It is very tiring to have to look at a husband early in the morning." There, apparently, you have the secret of a happy married life. If her advice is observed, Peggy believes that, despite all her own efforts to the contrary, the married state can still survive in our scheme of things. Her own frequent return trips to the altar indicate just how strong the attraction of marriage still remains even in these abandoned times. But the most convincing proof of the strength of monogamy is the fact that it can survive people like Peggy Upton Archer Hopkins Joyce Morner.

HOW NATURE itself works for the success and comfort of marriage has just been demonstrated in a Chicago court. There a man was charged with failure to pay alimony to one of his six ex-wives. When the judge commenced to question him, he found that nature had made a remarkable provision for the poor fellow. After testifying to six wives he had become stoned to death. How he is well equipped to try a seventh.

INCIDENTALLY, Peggy's book, according to the best reviewers was "ghosted." That is, the jargon of the publishing world means that someone else wrote it for her and she signed her name to it. This practice of "ghost writing" has become an established part of our current literary system and has gone so far that you never know definitely, when you read a book by a famous person, whether he has written it or not. Statesmen, movie stars, athletes and other notables are constantly represented as writing articles of every sort which have been turned out by skilled journalists, and the system has certain obvious advantages. A ghost-written article by a statesman, for instance, usually contains his ideas and expresses them much more clearly than he could do. And when it comes to baseball players and ladies like Peggy Joyce Morner, it is fortunate indeed that they do not write their own stuff, for in most cases it would be too terrible even for the rough standards of this age.

YOU CAN usually figure that if an article or book by an ordinary celebrity is pretty well-written some well-trained ghost wrote it; whereas if it is particularly sloppy and dull if it may be pure the celebrity did it himself. Writing is the ghost's business, and if he is wise the celebrity will not try to write a moment's notice to master a trade of which Cauter said that life was so short and the craft so long to learn. Happily there is no lack of thoroughly competent ghosts these days.

THE SUPREME COURT of Iowa has just rendered a decision in which astute observers see terrible possibilities. It has decided, in effect, that a man may divorce his wife because she differs from him in politics. On this ground it allowed one Dr. William P. Rosenberger freedom from his wife because he is reactionary in his views, and she is extremely radical. On the basis of such a decision, some writers hold that divorce will be given a tremendous new stimulation, and we shall see countless homes broken up simply because man and wife vote differently.

PERHAPS in Iowa this may be so. Perhaps down there they think more of their politics than their wives. But in this country, at least, there is nothing to fear. We will not break up our homes for an abstract principle of politics. We do not take our politics seriously enough for that. Perhaps if we did we should have better politics and a glorious re-birth of good government. But we are a backward people here. We prefer to pretend that our wives vote as we tell them, while voting as they tell us after they have decided on the most attractive-looking candidate. Rather than divorce wives we vote as they like, it may not be patriotic, but we are quite prepared to sacrifice our parliaments to the peace of our homes. It is so much more comfortable.

TWILIGHT RECITALS

To the Editor:—May I, through your paper, convey a tribute of praise and appreciation to those ladies and gentlemen who have each Sunday afternoon for the last two months given the public a suitable and high-class entertainment in the United Churches.

These recitals have been well attended and I feel sure that there are many, beside myself, who desire to express very sincere thanks for the delightful programmes which have been so generously provided.

It must, however, be the sacrifice of their leisure and some inconvenience to themselves, to spare time to attend not only the recitals, but practices for them, and such an act should not be taken for granted.

The kindness of the church committees, who have provided their handsome and comfortable churches each Sunday, and to the conductors and choir, I should like in this small way to convey the appreciative thanks of all who heard them.

HOW ONE WOMAN LOST 28 LBS. OF FAT

The headline is exactly true and means just what it says. Read her own letter: "I take a daily dose of Kruschen and I have lost two inches round the waist and hips and 28 lbs. since last summer. I feel very young, fit, and people tell me I look very fit. I am 5 ft. 4 ins. in height, 40 years old, and come of a stout family."

Miss E. L.

If you are fat, first remove the cause. When your liver, kidneys and bowels can't throw off that poisonous waste material which is always accumulating in your body—before you realize it you are growing hideously fat.

Notice also how you have gained in energy and health. Your skin is clearer, your eyes sparkle with glorious health. You feel younger in body, keener in mind. Kruschen will give many fat people a joyous surprise. (Adv.)

AT THE THEATRES

SIX-YEAR-OLD
SINGER SCORES
HIT AT VARIETY

Raymond Toby Leitch who scores a big hit as a comical negro footman in "Getting George's Goat" at the Variety Theatre this week, was born in the southern states and had an excellent opportunity of studying the speech, mannerisms and peculiarities of the Kentucky and Tennessee negro. The results of that study is apparent in his brilliant performance which keeps his audience in an uproar of laughter.

Little Duncan McLean, only six years old, wins thunderous applause with his rendition of two songs, including "Sonny Boy."

"Getting George's Goat" is a particularly witty farce-comedy. It depicts the difficulties George Daniels encounters when he untruthfully accounts for the late hours he keeps during his wife's absence from town.

PRIMA DONNA OF
BROADWAY APPEARS

Jeanette MacDonald, Broadway musical comedy prima-donna who made her debut in Maurice Chevalier's all-talking and singing romance, "The Love Parade," is seen and heard in her second musical romance production of "Venus," which is being shown at the Dominion Theatre.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE
FINDS VENUS NEEDS
PLENTY OF CLOTHES

"Venus" brings to mind a scantily attired maiden, but Constance Talmadge thinks it means the contrary. If anything now that she has finished work on her United Artists picture entitled "Venus," which is being shown at the Columbia Theatre.

Upon her arrival in Paris, on her way to Nice, where "Venus" was filmed, Miss Talmadge found her journey retarded for many long hours so that she might properly typify the modern edition of the fair lady with the lovely torso. Instead of her wardrobe being minimized, Miss Talmadge had to take into herself twenty-two dresses of the latest style and endure a week of patient fittings to make sure that they were just right for her figure. And producer-director Louis Mercanton and his cast of continental celebrities had to twiddle their thumbs and count the studio buildings until their "Venus" was properly clothed.

GAYNOR AND FARRELL
ARE AGAIN TOGETHER
IN "LUCKY STAR"

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, the sweethearts of the screen, are gloriously reunited under the direction of Frank Borzage in their first Fox Movietone talking picture, "Lucky Star," at the Playhouse Theatre today. This popular trio, whose "Seventh Heaven" and "Street Angel" pictures were international social successes, have once more scored a hit in their present talking picture. Prominent among those who support the co-starring team of Miss Gaynor and Farrell in speaking portraiture are Quinn Williams and Hedwig Reicher.

NOTED PLAYWRIGHT
WROTE SCREEN VERSION
OF "NO, NO, NANETTE"

Howard E. Rogers, former New York playwright, wrote the screen version of "No, No, Nanette," the first National and Vitaphone picture now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

Rogers, who knew all the men responsible for the original opera, followed its fortunes from its trial opening in a small town until it became the outstanding musical hit of the New York stage. When First National purchased the screen rights they immediately assigned Rogers to the task of bringing the big production to cinema shape.

Bernice Claire and Alexander Gray, the latter of "Sally, Sally," the cast includes Lucien Littlefield, Louise Fazenda, Lilyan Tashman, Bert Roach, Zasu Pitts and others. Clarence Badger directed.

JAMES McGRATH AND GORDON McLEOD IN LEADING ROLES

"The Whole Town's Talking," a screamingly funny farce, now playing at the Royal Theatre, is one of the funniest plays seen in Victoria for a long time. Last night the audience headed by Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Willington gave the play a wonderful reception.

Henry Simmons and Chester Binney, the two leading characters, played respectively by James McGrath and Gordon McLeod in splendid style, caused a whirlwind of laughter. Roland Gillett and Claude Bailey, as the young millionaire and the movie picture director, were no less funny. Lillian Christina as a movie star, gives a brilliant and dashing air to the part and wears some beautiful dresses. Maude Blay as the wife who is very suspicious of her husband, Margaret St. Barbe-West, as the charming little daughter who thinks she wants the man she wishes to marry to have had a romantic past, are charming. The fine cast is completed by Betty Jennings as Sadie Bloom, George Durham as the taxi driver, and Harcourt Aubrey as the butler.

RARE WINES IN WASTE PAPER

U.S. Customs Officials Get Thousand Cases Crossing Niagara River

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 9.—A carload of waste paper, billed from Port Hope, aroused the suspicions yesterday of United States customs officials across the Niagara River. Working on the theory waste paper is not shipped such distances, the officials opened the car and discovered more than 1,000 cases of rare wines and cordials, hidden under the layer of waste.

The liquor was dumped into the river from the lower bridge to the great delight of boat owners. Word quickly spread the liquor was being thrown over and many persons rowed down under the bridge and salvaged bottles which had not been broken.

TRAPPER JAILED

Aeroplane Was Used in Search For David Brinton of Ontario

Sioux Lookout, Ont., April 9.—David Brinton, trapper-prospecter, was yesterday sentenced to four years in the penitentiary by Magistrate J. J. O'Connor, on a charge of stealing furs from the Hudson's Bay Company while in transit south of Red Lake.

Frank Lee, Chinese restaurant proprietor of Red Lake, charged with receiving stolen goods, was given one year suspended sentence and advised to leave the district at once. He stated he received one fur as a gift and later informed the police as to the whereabouts of the stolen property.

ANTI-MONARCHIAL
MOVEMENT IN SPAIN
GROWS THREATENING

Madrid, April 9.—Anti-monarchical movements in Spain threatened to develop additional repressive measures by the government of Premier General Dámaso Berenguer. The political situation within the last two days has become more turbulent than at any time in the last few weeks.

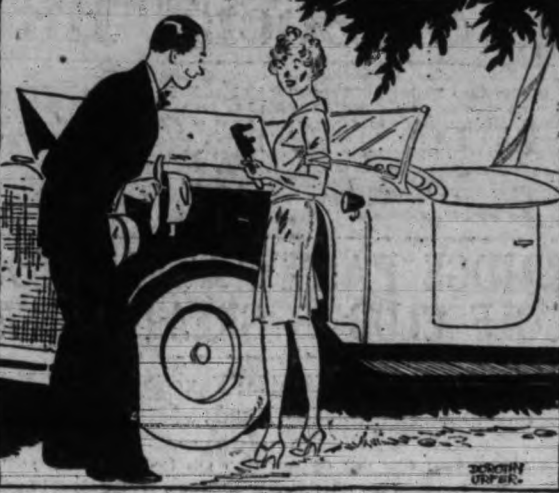

The present situation had its beginning Sunday with a meeting of socialists and laborers to honor Pablo Iglesias, pioneer Spanish revolutionary. It culminated Monday night with arrest for the second time within two days for anti-monarchical speeches of Jose Ortega y Gasset, Republican, who recently returned from exile.

Meeting place buzzed with comment at the extremes of speeches to which enemies of the monarchy have gone.

Obesity Usually Is
Due to Bad Habits,
Not to "Heredity"

OBESITY USUALLY IS DUE TO BAD HABITS, NOT TO "HEREDITY,"

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

The general impression prevails that there are two kinds of fat people, those who over-eat and under-exercise, and those whose systems seem to be so constituted that they must perform be fat. The latter type is presumed to be due to heredity or to some change that has taken place in the glands of internal secretion.

Investigators in the University of Michigan School of Medicine have recently completed a series of investigations of the subject which point to a different point of view. Dr. L. H. Newburgh and Dr. W. Johnston, who worked with him, believe that the cause of the latter type of obesity is merely a perverted appetite. In normal people there is a mechanism that maintains a balance between the amount of energy expended and the amount taken in.

The Michigan investigators divide all cases of obesity into two groups. The first group, which is by far the larger, suffers from perverted eating habits. The normal person has a mechanism which notifies him that he has eaten enough. The obese people, through perverted habit, have come to require stronger notification before they feel fully satisfied.

Sometimes they deliberately disregard the warnings in order to enjoy further the pleasure that they get from eating. In many instances children who are too fat get the perverted habit from eating at table with their parents, who constantly overeat.

The outlook is likely to call his type of obesity hereditary, whereas it is actually the result of limitation of a bad habit.

The second type of obesity represents a group who have been accustomed to taking the right amount of food, but whose constitution gradually changes with advancing age. They drift along with the old habits of food intake, becoming obese and indulging in over-eating, before they realize their danger.

In some instances the basal metabolic rate of the person, which is an index of his utilization of food material, remains the same but his output of energy lessens because of advancing years or change of occupation. In other instances the basal metabolic rate becomes low because of a gradual change in the gland constitution of the person with advancing years.

A physician who studies the case can stimulate the metabolism by the administration of proper remedies, or can advise a suitable diet in relation to the amount of energy used. A proper limitation of food will usually result in a loss of weight without danger to health.

A suitable diet must contain all the vital elements and in addition a sufficient amount of energy content, measured in calories, to provide for the output of energy.

Son Ransoms Father

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 9.—A copyrighted special dispatch from Meritt Blakeley, correspondent for The Oklahoma City Times and Oklahoman (to-day said the release of J. E. Bristow, Oklahoma and Texas oil man, who was captured by Mexican bandits several weeks ago, was imminent.

The dispatch sent from Ahuacatlan, Nayarit, shortly after noon stated that

After this mileage the filtering unit ceases to function as it has become filled with dirt, sludge and abrasive material taken from the oil. messenger of Obie Bristow, the oil messengers of Obie-Bristow, the oil coast of the southern Republic recently to negotiate with the bandits, finally had made contact with his father's captors in their isolated retreat near Hilo, a mountain village. The messengers carried gold with which to pay the ransom.

Father: Yes, so is Charlie, or he wouldn't have written.

COMMUNICATION

THROUGH the jungles of darkest Africa the voice of the primitive "telephone"—the drum—still reverberates. By means of a code of drum-beats which no white man has yet been able fully to decipher, one dusky operator speaks to a community miles away. There another drum is pounded, and so, in relay fashion, long distance messages are transmitted from one tribe to another.

Perhaps the greatest asset to the social and business life of Canada is the modern telephone. A network of some four million miles of wire spreads over the Dominion and links up a million and a quarter telephones from coast to coast.

A large proportion of the wires, instruments and other apparatus involved in this vast telephone system was manufactured in the plants of the Northern Electric Company.

Over 300 Guests at Delightful Function Staged Yesterday to Aid Furnishing Funds of New Clubhouse.

The Colwood Golf and Country Club was the mecca of a veritable caravan of cars from the city yesterday afternoon, bearing several hundred of the lady members and their friends. The ladies' committee, headed by Miss Eleanor Dunsmuir, captain; Mrs. Walter S. Fraser, Mrs. Walter Parry, Mrs. F. F. ## FIRST UNITED Y.P.S. SOCIAL

"Surprise Night" Held Monday With Enjoyable Programme

"Surprise Night" at the First United Y.P.S. Monday night proved very popular. One hundred enthusiastic young people took part in the various group games, competitions and sing songs under the splendid leadership of George Gordon. Several vocal duets were added attractions of the programme.

The devotional period was in charge of Jean Menzies, who chose as her theme, "A Hero's World," taken from Joshua 1:1-9. Rev. Dr. Wilson, who led in prayer, also spoke briefly on church membership and on the communicants' class, which he has been conducting for the past few weeks. Several members of the Y.P.S. are joining the church at the Easter communion.

John Gough, on behalf of those present, thanked the committee composed of Olive Heritage, Ethel Douglas, Gordon Robson and George Gordon for the evening's splendid entertainment.

Gordon Robson of the tennis committee reported that excellent progress is being made at the tennis courts. Generous contributions have been made by several members of the congregation and the committee is hoping to secure many more special donations.

The executive has planned to put on a model Y.P. programme on Monday, April 14. Members of the congregation and friends of the young people will be invited and given the opportunity of seeing the Y.P. at work.

The main event of the evening will be the final debate of the series. The Misses Mae Murie and Florence McDougall of the Pas-a-pas and Misses Muriel Roy and May Innes of the Astoria will debate the subject: "Resolved that reading is more cultural and educational than travel." Two of the judges will be Mrs. W. Ramsell and Mr. G. A. A. Heiden.

The Y.P. banquet scheduled for Monday, April 29, will bring to a close the indoor activities of the season.

About forty members of the society will journey up to Duncan on Good Friday to take part in the big Y.P. rally which is being held there.

DOES YOUR FRIEND'S CHILD ROMP ALL OVER YOUR FURNITURE?

The conflicts between young mothers and mothers-in-law, neighbor and neighbor (with children) and between friend and friend affect us all. Most of us try to be polite and avoid any open conflict. However, that policy doesn't solve the problem nor cure our resentment when one or the other angers us. The following is a situation which we all meet: "I hope you may be able to help solve my problem," says Mrs. W. "What is the correct thing to say and do when a visitor, whose four-year-old daughter will walk all over the furniture, does not correct her child? I like this friend and like her to visit me, but I like my home, too. It is not a case of her being ignorant—the home is better—but seemingly as soon as she enters my house or anyone's, the child is on top of everything."

"Surely she knows that furniture is not so easily replaced and that scratches are hard to hide. I am fond of children and like to see them happy but in justice to my home I wonder how I should act or what I may say. Must I, as a polite hostess, grin and bear it when the child walks and climbs on my furniture?"

PROVIDE SMALL VISITOR WITH TOYS

You have a perfect right to tell the child not to climb on your furniture, Mrs. W., and your friend will be quick to note this is displeasing to you, but I don't think this is the most tactful way to handle the situation. Try to remember how you felt when you were taken calling with your mother. What a terrible bore it was. The child, even of four years, simply can't be interested sitting and listening to you and your friend chatter, so she has to amuse herself. Being in a strange house there is nothing with which she can amuse herself except with the objects around her. Perhaps she has been so well trained that she won't touch your ornaments, and instead her busy little mind makes up a story of climbing up on heights, going away to long distances all the time that she is making this pretend story real by surmounting the obstacles of your furniture.

You can avoid the situation, and prevent hurting the child by your disapproval of what she is doing—which is the only thing she can do except sit down and do nothing—by having on hand some toys or games suited to a child of her age. Keep a basket of toys on a shelf for the use of your friend's children: A pad of rough paper, some pencils, some crayons, a blunt scissors, a few old magazines, a book or two, a ball, a doll, and a game or two of the type which the child must fit together into various colored patterns. When the child comes with her mother, give her the toys and designate a place for her to play. Then while you and your friend gossip in peace, the child will be occupied and will have no desire whatever to use your furniture as a playground.

Tooth decay is caused by germs

Remove the FILM that breeds bacteria and turns white teeth dull and dingy

TOOTH DECAY is caused by germs. Pyorrhea usually results from germs and tartar. Germs are imprisoned in a dingy, glue-like coating on the teeth called film. There they breed by millions in every crevice in contact with the teeth and tissues. Film clings so stubbornly ordinary ways are not successful in removing it. Use the special formula called Pepsodent. You instantly notice the difference in the way it feels. Film vanishes. Teeth become gleaming white. Yet Pepsodent acts gently. No pumice, harmful grit or crude abrasive—but a soft, creamy paste that is prescribed for the softest teeth and tenderest gums.

Minister Tells Of New School Magazine Plan

An outline of his proposal to place a magazine in the public schools of British Columbia was given by Hon. J. Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, before the Women's Conservative Club on Monday evening. Mr. Hinchliffe explained the act which provides for educational assistance to the children of those who served in the Great War with the aim of giving, as far as possible, what might have been provided had the father lived to care for his family, or been prevented by disability from doing so.

An amendment to the Public Schools Act was also dealt with and in connection with supplementary reading the minister gave very fully the purpose of the new magazine, that is to be published for the public schools of the province. Through an almost inexhaustible supply of the great stories of the achievements of the British people, it should be possible to build up in the children of the province a sense of their heritage of British traditions.

A warm vote of thanks was given to Mr. Hinchliffe by the president, Mrs. A. J. Ollis, and the meeting closed with the National Anthem, followed by refreshments and a social half hour.

Women's Educational Auxiliary.—The Women's Educational Auxiliary will meet to-morrow at 2.30 o'clock, instead of 3 p.m., in the lecture room of First Church. Miss Jessie McLennan, B.Sc., will speak on "Some New Thoughts in Home Economics." There will be a musical programme and tea will be served.

MISS NEELANDS IS NEW FACTOR

Victoria Post Native Daughters Elected Officers Last Night

Miss Etta Neelands was elected chief factor of Post No. 3, Native Daughters of British Columbia, at the annual meeting held last evening, with Mrs. E. J. Stapledon, the retiring factor, in the chair. Other officers chosen were: Past chief factor, Mrs. Stapledon; vice-factor, Mrs. Percy Waters; chaplain, Miss Merle Lorimer; historian, Mrs. E. Kinnear; treasurer, Miss E. Widdowson; guides, Mrs. Fred Webb, Miss Lilian Smethurst; inner sentinel, Mrs. L. Lorimer; outer sentinel, Mrs. E. McIntosh; auditor, Miss Jean Lorimer.

The annual grand post meeting will be held in Nanaimo on April 23 and 24, and Mrs. S. J. Stapledon, Miss Etta Neelands and Miss Mae McCormick were appointed delegates to represent the Victoria post. Miss E. Wilson and Miss Merle Lorimer will also attend in their capacity as grand officers.

Excellent reports were presented of the year's work, much satisfaction being expressed at the encouraging financial statement.

Belmont Y.P.S. Met.—The regular meeting of the Young People's Society of Belmont United Church was held on Monday evening and took the form of a missionary meeting. Miss Violet Perry, whose group had charge of the meeting, took the chair and Arthur Chapman gave the Bible reading. Miss May Hick rendered a piano solo, which was very much enjoyed, after which W. A. Hick, a former missionary of China, gave a very interesting talk on the China Inland Mission, and of his work in China and the conditions of that country at that time. Miss Violet Perry tendered a vote of thanks to the speaker, after which discussion took place on the Young People's Council to be held at Duncan on Good Friday. The meeting was then brought to a close. The meeting next week will be in charge of Miss Winnifred Chapman's group and will take the form of a Christian Fellowship meeting to which all young people are invited.

Fellowship Club.—Under the auspices of the Fellowship Club an enjoyable card party was held yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. C. Sivert, Denman Street, when Mr. Panthorpe, Mrs. J. Smith and Mrs. H. Wall won the prizes for gentlemen, and Miss Preese, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. T. Smith, those for ladies. Mrs. Mallows was the fortunate winner of the cake donated by Mrs. Kirk. Delicious refreshments were served. The Schubert Club has kindly offered to sing at the next concert to be given under the club auspices in the two wards for aged and infirm patients at the Jubilee Hospital.

"I can't be bothered with a Lipstick... that's always coming off"

—declares dainty Patsy Ruth Miller, famed in the films for the personality of her lips. "When I make up my lips in the morning, they must remain that way all day. There's only one lipstick that does it—Kissproof."

Over 5,000,000 daily users of Kissproof share Miss Miller's satisfaction. See for yourself how lasting—how natural—this waterproof lipstick is. Get it at any toilet counter.

SHE'LL PICTURE THE SUN'S ECLIPSE

Maybe she'll tell the sun and the moon to "stand closer together, please," when she takes their picture during the eclipse of the sun at San Diego, Calif., on April 28. Mrs. Isabel M. Lewis, the only woman astronomer employed by the Naval Observatory in Washington, is shown here with the camera with which she will photograph the lunar phenomena.

CRAFTSMEN IN MAKING THINGS NEW

DAUGHTER BORN TO DOLORES COSTELLO

Los Angeles, April 8.—A daughter was born at 2 p.m. yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. John Barrymore at the Good Samaritan Hospital. The girl weighed seven pounds and nine ounces. Mrs. Barrymore, formerly Dolores Costello, film star, and the child, are doing nicely, hospital attendants said.

The world's first omnibus appeared in France, in the city of Nantes, about 104 years ago.

An Ailing CHILD

Are you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or the gentle relief of constipation, to allay a feverish condition, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so. You can tell from the recipe on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

JOHN HOSIE IS AGAIN PRESIDENT OF BURNS CLUB

Popular Society Head Re-elected After Several Years in Office

"Christine's Courtin'" Amusing Playlet, Presented at Annual Meeting

John Hosie, Provincial architect, who has guided the destinies of the Victoria Burns Club for a number of years, was again elected to the post of president at the annual meeting in the Amphion Hall yesterday evening. In a short address Mr. Hosie complimented the club on its membership, now totaling 450, making it the largest Burns Club in the world. Of the many societies and organizations to which he had belonged, none gave him greater social or intellectual enjoyment than the Burns Club, he said. The full list of club officers is as follows: Honorary president, His Honor Lieutenant-Governor R. R. Bruce; Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie and T. D. Patullo; Honorary vice-president, Dr. A. O. Grant; secretary, John Hosie; vice-president, W. B. Grant; treasurer, D. McAdie; secretary, W. L. Patterson; executive, A. S. Christie, J. A. Dewar, John Grant, James McMartin, D. E. Cameron and L. Stewart. The club's hard is W. Hastie Cochrane and the piper, D. Cameron. Conveners of committees: Dramatic circle, George C. Grant; social and entertainment, Mrs. George Gedrim; musical, Mrs. Isobel Crawford; sick visiting, Mrs. O. C. Grant and Miss Hosie; book committee, Mrs. Ross Napier, Mrs. H. W. Niven and Colonel Lightbody; librarian, Charles McKillop. Meetings of the club will be discontinued for the summer season, resuming in September.

FLAXLET PRESENTED "Christine's Courtin'"

An amusing playlet by J. J. Bell, was presented by the dramatic circle under George Grant as the concluding entertainment of the annual meeting. The playlet was directed by George Bryden, James A. Dewar, Mrs. O. C. Grant, Mrs. W. H. Lively, Mrs. D. C. Robertson, Miss Todd, Miss Emma Morrey, W. L. Patterson and Donald S. Cameron.

The attention of the large audience was drawn by Mr. Hosie to the "local color" in the playlet. Several pictures done by Donald Cameron, who had charge of the scenic effects, appeared on the walls, including sketches of the "Auld Brig o' Ayr," Burns's farm at Ellisland, and the "Auld Kirk" at Alloway.

Musical selections were provided by a talented group of artists and included: Vocal solos by Miss Isobel Crawford and George Gray, accordion and violin selections by Eartachi and Nezdoro, Scottish dances by pupils of Miss Nellie Macfarlane (the Misses Gladys Ackerman, Gwen Dewar and Joan Marsh.) Piper Cameron supplied music for dancing, and Miss Norma Halliday accompanied on the piano.

EXCHANGE OF PREFERENCES

Canada Ready to Negotiate With Australia, Says Trade Minister

Vancouver, B.C., April 9.—A special dispatch from Ottawa to The Province says: Hon. James A. Macdonald, Minister of Trade and Commerce, told a delegation of lumbermen from Vancouver to-day that the government was ready to negotiate a complete exchange of preferences with Australia. He stated that the matter would be fully discussed with Mr. Fenton, one of the Commonwealth ministers, who will shortly return from the naval conference. It was intimated that negotiations with the Australian government are now in progress.

It would appear that lumber shipments from Canada will be included in this preferential arrangement. The delegation urged that action be taken along this line. The minister was told of a trip made to Australia by a delegation in the interest of trade expansion, and of Australia being favorably disposed towards extending the existing preferential arrangement with Canada.

Bontman Trial At Regina Halted By Questioned Jury

Regina, Sask., April 9.—The second trial of Harry Bontman, wealthy Montreal distiller, on a charge of interfering with witnesses in a former liquor prosecution case at Moose Jaw, was halted yesterday, when the chief counsel for the Crown, Cal. C. E. Gregory, K.C., produced an affidavit alleging that one Thomas Hanley of Regina had been illegally in possession of the jury list for the present assizes.

It is now unlikely that the trial will proceed at least until next Monday and it may be deferred until the May sittings.

Doctor and Woman Found Dead in Office

New York, April 9.—An anonymous telephone call to police headquarters early this morning led to the discovery of the body of Dr. N. R. Allen and that of a young woman in the physician's office apartment in the fashionable Sutton Place section.

The woman had been shot through the throat and the physician through the temple. A revolver was lying at his side and police expressed the belief that it was a case of murder and suicide.

LOSES LIFE IN LIBERTY BREAK

Harold Peters Eludes Officers and Jumps Into St. John's River

Saskatoon, Sask., April 9.—Harold Frank Peters, who escaped from the police in Saskatoon and was rearrested in Florida recently, has again escaped the clutches of the law, but only at the cost of his life. Peters, who was in charge of the United States Immigration Service and confined on a boat in the St. John's River, near Jacksonville, Florida, awaiting deportation to Canada, jumped from the boat and was drowned. It is not known whether the drowning occurred as the result of a deliberate suicide or a desperate attempt at escape.

It will be remembered that Peters, who escaped from the cells of the mounted police barracks here on June 16 last year, by picking a lock, was found in a cabin in the Everglade Jungle after venturing to the post-office of New Smyrna, near Jacksonville, in hope of letters from his brother in Regina. In the hut which he built for himself in the swamps were found knives, shotgun, food and clothing, all stolen. Peters would have faced a list of nearly forty charges on his return to Canada. He was wanted for breaking

BUYING ON INSTALLMENTS SOUND PLAN

Vacuum Cleaner Company Head Defends Credit System in Canada

A defence of the instalment plan of buying as a sound policy, is made by M. P. Tuttle, managing director of the Premier Vacuum Cleaner Company Limited, in a recent interview. "When an institution has become the butt of comedians and cartoonists, one may be sure that like the proverbial mother-in-law, it has come to stay," writes P. W. Quick of London, England, in his "Economics of Instalment Trading and Hire Purchase," pointed out Mr. Tuttle.

"So much has been said for and against the instalment system on this continent that it is interesting indeed to examine what progress, if any, this system has made in perhaps the most conservative market in the world—I refer to Great Britain. It will certainly come as a shock to the followers of Samuel Smiles and his Thrift School to learn that no less than 16,000,000 higher purchase agreements are at present in existence in Great Britain; that these are increasing at the rate of 4,000,000 per year or nearly 11,000 a day; that they cover some 80 per cent of the piano and gramophone retail trade; 50 per cent to 60 per cent of the automobile sales, 70 per cent of business done in securing utility and electric and 50 per cent of the furniture sold in these islands.

Business, a highly conservative British journal, says that the alarm, if any alarm there be, is based on the fact that all this means an enormous extension of credit—and credit given on security vastly different from the security known to the Samuel Smiles generation. The crux of instalment trading means that the man in the back street can borrow on no sounder security than the man in the suburbs. The value of the goods which he buys, and therefore in the final analysis as to whether an instalment purchase is permissible or not, one must base the goods bought; and providing that they do not depreciate before the last instalment payment has been made, then quick discussion of the whole theory of this system, and at the end of his book, lists the pros and cons of it. His conclusions are that the savings to the over-enthusiastic retailer who is apt to consider too little the reasons contended in giving instalment credit.

The warnings may be summarized as follows: Beware of losses owing to neglect of investigation, it is more difficult to supervise personal credit than business credit; don't let your anxiety to complete lead you into extending the system to articles that depreciate too rapidly; don't overload your books with credits for articles already consumed.

TOO SMALL PAYMENT
"It seems," said Mr. Tuttle, "that another danger with which we in Canada are faced, is in the tight for business, in demanding too small a down payment. In such cases we are being unfair to the purchaser who in many cases is unable to continue his payments, and in the final analysis, we are being unfair to ourselves for we are asking for trouble and most certainly getting it."

"As regards our business," Mr. Tuttle continued, "no less than 95 per cent of our retail business is done on the instalment system, and our total loss is actually less than 1 per cent, which seems to me proof in itself that the system is inherently sound. Our success in keeping down this loss, we believe is due to demanding a reasonable first deposit and to the fact that we are selling an article whose useful life continues for many years after the last instalment has been paid."

Reorganization of the Twelfth Siege Battery, Canadian Artillery, was discussed at a meeting held in the Armory, Bay Street, yesterday evening under Capt. Aubrey Kent, O.C. A full strength unit is expected to proceed to Sarcee Camp, Calgary, in August for training.

Members who have already enrolled will receive uniforms next Tuesday and training will commence the following week.

Capt. R. Castle has been named second in command with J. Slater as sergeant-major. Recruits may enroll at the Armory on Tuesday nights or with Capt. Kent, 641 Yates Street.

SASKATCHEWAN NO CONFIDENCE VOTE DEFEATED

Regina, Sask., April 9.—The Saskatchewan Legislature at 12:10 o'clock this morning upheld the Warren amendment to the Gardiner non-confidence motion by a vote of 28 to 12. The Warren amendment called for the immediate dismissal of Q. P. McNab, local Government board commissioner.

Mr. Gardiner asked that the vote on the main motion be held over until this afternoon, but this the Government refused to do. The debate was resumed on the main motion but Mr. Speaker Leslie ruled that no vote would be taken on this, citing an arrangement earlier in the evening. The Government victory on the amendment was therefore construed as a vote of confidence.

MANY QUESTIONS TO BE ANSWERED BY U.S. CENSUS

Enumerators Get Ready to Begin on 10-Year Count of Population

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Note-books in hand, official nose-counters for the United States Census Bureau are about to descend upon the citizenry of the republic to ask a whole lot of questions of all of Uncle Sam's nephews and nieces. The process will take several weeks. When it is over, however, the Census Bureau's troubles will just about be beginning.

For the nephews and nieces, in their turn, will start asking questions, then, and the Census Bureau will be expected to tell them everything from the height of the Boston custom house tower to the exact age of Aunt Ann.

SOME THEY CAN'T ANSWER

The Census Bureau knows what is coming. People expect it to answer all kinds of questions, most of which are quite unanswerable; here are some of the most common ones, as compiled by a Census Bureau official the other day in a fit of justifiable despondency:

How many people in the United States have blue eyes, brown eyes, or grey eyes?

How many people weigh more than 100 pounds, 200 pounds, 300 pounds and 400 pounds, respectively?

How many people are under five feet in height?

How many people have been married twenty-five, fifty or seventy-five years, as the case may be, and how many, if any, have been married 100 years?

How many women wear size 36?

How many people have incomes between $500 and $1,000?

How many people sixty-five years of age and over are dependent on others for support?

How many insane people are there? How many people keep servants?

How many pairs of twins are there? How many cripples are there, and how many persons with one arm and how many with one eye?

How many wear glasses? Those are just a few samples of the questions that will begin to pour in on the Census Bureau as soon as the decennial count is completed. They will keep coming until the 1940 census is taken, when they will start all over again; and since not one of these points is covered by the government when it takes the census, all the bureau officials can do about it is make some inspired guesses.

These are the things that keep life interesting for Census Bureau officials.

EVERY PERSON RECORDED

The mechanics of the census are interesting. To begin with, every citizen, no matter how obscure he may be, gets in on it. He is interviewed by a representative of the government, and gets a permanent place in the history of his country when the record of his personal life is filed away in the government archives.

On top of that, there is an unofficial record kept by a mechanical counter. This machine ticks and flashes once every 23 seconds, showing that a new citizen has been added to the United States. This is based on estimates that there is a birth every 13 seconds and a death every 23 seconds, the arrival of an immigrant every 1½ minutes and the departure of an emigrant every 5½ minutes. There are four colored lights on the machine to do the necessary flashing, and the whole thing is quite diverting.

ASK MORE QUESTIONS

Census takers this year will ask more questions than ever before, and statistical information gained from the census will be published as soon as it can be collated and compiled. However, historians and genealogists will have to wait something like fifty years before facts about specific individuals will be made available.

The history of the census is interesting. The first census was made in 1790, but many of the records are missing—for that year as well as for later years. Some of the records may have been lost when the British burned the capitol in 1814, others may have vanished when the patent office burned in 1836, and still more were consumed when there was a fire in the census division in 1894. However, the Census Bureau vaults contain about 15,000 bound volumes of census schedules.

CHAFF CANADIAN IN BRITISH COMMONS ON FOREIGN TONGUE

Canadian Press Cable London, April 9.—There was some banter during discussion of the housing bill in the House of Commons yesterday and the "foreign tongue" of a Canadian member was its subject. A. W. Haycock, the Labor member for Salford West, who was born in Ontario, raised a number of points of order and finally he was interrupted by W. J. Womersley, Conservative member for Grimsby. "Is it in order for the honorable member to address the chair in a foreign tongue?" queried Mr. Womersley. The Speaker answered quickly that the Grimsby representative should not refer to a Canadian accent as a foreign tongue. Mr. Womersley then replied, with a twinkle, while the House laughed, that having heard the Speaker's explanation, he wholeheartedly withdrew his remark.

Pacific Coast League Baseball Teams Off On Six Months' Chase

THE SPORTS MIRROR

American Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Washington, Boston.

National New York, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cincinnati, Brooklyn, St. Louis, Boston.

EVERYBODY is picking how the sixteen major league clubs will finish the 1930 baseball season and that is the reason for the above selection. Naturally there will be many adverse opinions but then, everybody to their own taste. The American League situation does not seem hard to fathom at all. Philadelphia stood out clearly last year, even though the team was afforded wonderful breaks in the luck. Connie Mack had the pitchers and the batters and his team had been playing together as a unit long enough to become pretty well organized. They won 104 games last year while the New York Yankees were winning 88. Something will have to happen to Mickey Cochrane and a couple of the A's pitchers before that margin is brought down to within striking distance of the other teams.

However, there is every promise for a close race in the American League closer than last year. Cleveland finished in a burst of glory last fall, and if Jonah Kinsman or Carl Lund solves the shortstop question Peckinpaugh's team is much stronger than it was last season. In picking Detroit for the show position a great deal of dependence is being placed in the right arm of George Uhle. If Uhle fails to deliver twenty games, all bets are off. Detroit hits the ball—the Tigers led the league in that department last year.

The Yankees are gambling on important positions and the pitching. Bob Shawkey will get remains a noble experiment. Chapman at third and Coker in left field, still have to demonstrate that they are first class ball players. Lots of players have come to the big leagues with well-padded scrapbooks but they aren't paying off on clipping.

The Chicago White Sox finished seventh last year. They are being promoted this season, and the main reason is Donnie Bush, their new manager. Emead Jolley, of course, will add punch at the bat and they certainly need some of that last year.

St. Louis has a pitcher but lacks hitters, and the same holds true of Washington. If "Goose" Goslin comes through this year, however, selection of the Senators for the place is just made for fun, not for keeps at all. The Boston team fielded next to last in 1929 and batted eighth.

We will now look over the National League.

The selection of McGraw's team to win the National League pennant is not based upon figures, other than that of John Joseph McGraw himself. After a series of terrible, head-on collisions, McGraw brought his team out of a disastrous slump and landed in third place, 13½ games behind the Cubs. Give him any kind of luck this season with his pitchers and he will wipe away those 13½ games like a kid wipes 2 times 6 equals 12 off his school slate. Only two teams beat McGraw last year in games played. The Cubs won a dozen from the Giants and he took ten. Brooklyn won fourteen from New York while losing seven.

The Pirates are a good ball club. They batted second last year, although they fielded in the second division. They have another first baseman, Gus Suhr, this season as usual. They have a new manager. What Jewel Egan will do with the team remains a question.

Why do we pick the Cubs for third of all places? That is a question many fans will ask. Here's the answer. Last year the team led all the others in fielding and was third in batting strength. Improvements have been made this year, too. But this is a baseball team that cracked badly in the world series. Seven other clubs in the league are aware of this. Also, Harry Pett's arm is supposed to be well again, and so is Hornsby's heel. But once an arm departs as Gaby's did, it is hard to place dependence in it. Hornsby's heel may be well again, but he has been limping in training. Let Bush or Malone or Root turn up with a bad year, and the margin of games by which the Cubs proved their superiority last year will dwindle considerably.

The Philadelphia Phillies have been coming along wonderfully. If Runt Shotton gets pitching and catching this year his team may well go higher than fourth. Cincinnati has added power that was badly needed last year. In Hollman and Bob Meusel, Brooklyn has improved, too. But, as Wilbert Robinson says, a great number of "ifs" surround this team. Vance has to have a good year for him. St. Louis does not appear to have improved, although Gaby Street will get all the baseball humanity possible out of his team. Boston has been chosen for last place. It's a custom.

Frankie Genaro Beats Frenchman

Naples, Italy, April 9.—Frankie Genaro, U.S. fighter, knocked out the French flyweight Gleisels, in the third round of their bout here yesterday evening.

Fifty-fifty John: I do have having a half-brother. Mother: You haven't any half-brother. John: Well, what's Eric? I always give him half my apple, half my candy, half my clothes, half my bath, and now he's gone and taken half my measles.

San Francisco, April 9.—Welcomed back by 45,000 followers, in four opening games yesterday, Pacific Coast League baseball and its cohorts settled down to-day for the long six months' grind that will lead to the 1930 championship.

The twenty-eighth grand opening of the big Class A circuit took place to the accompaniment of a barrage of base hits, much pomp and ceremony, perfect weather and two upsets.

Big League-Ball Opener Will Be Sent Over Radio

The first big league baseball game of the 1930 season, Washington vs. Boston in the American League on April 14, will be sent out over the coast-to-coast network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

This game, which launches the teams of both leagues into the next chase after the world's championship pennant held by the Philadelphia Athletics, will be the only one played that day. The other teams are slated to go into action on the following day.

President Hoover is expected to attend and toss out the first ball as he did last year. The procession of the players to the flag pole in center field, the presence of the "first-day" dignitaries, and the game itself will be described by Ted Husing, chief of Columbia's announcers.

The umpire will cry "batter up" at 12 noon, P.S.T.

SOMERVILLE AND DAWSON LEAD FIELD

Crack Canadian Golfer Deadlocked With U.S. Rival For Medalist Honors

Both Have Totals of 147; Match Play Starts To-day in North-South Event

Pinehurst, N.C., April 9.—Totalling 147 strokes each for the thirty-six-hole qualifying round, John Dawson, youthful Chicago contender, and C. Ross Somerville, London, Ont., tied for medalist honors yesterday in the thirtieth annual north-south amateur golf tournament. Dawson added a 75 to his 72 of Monday, when he led the field by three strokes at the end of the first eighteen holes. Somerville turned the tables and added a brilliant 73 to his 75 of Monday.

Forbes K. Wilson, of York Harbor, Maine, former Maine state amateur champion, and George J. Vogt, of New York, the defending champion, tied for second place with 152. Both had rounds of 76 yesterday and Monday. T. Hunter of North Adams, Mass., and J. B. Stevens, of Chicago, former Princeton star, were one stroke behind Talley with their 155's. Philip Pilling, Redlands, Cal., was in a four-way tie for ninth with 158.

The score of 159 was needed to make the championship division. Play in the championship division begins to-day.

High School and Keating to Meet in What Promises to Be Thrilling Game

Red Birds to Oppose Harmony; Junior Teams to Meet For Championship

Semi-final games in the men's "Y.M.C.A." knockout basketball series will be played at the association's gymnasium to-night. In the men's game Keating will look horns with the High School boys in what should be a thrilling game right from the starting whistle. The women's tussle will find the Harmony playing the Red Birds with the latter favored to cop the decision. In a preliminary game the Jolly Rogers and Lindes will meet for the Y.M.C.A. junior championship.

When the Harmony and Red Birds take the floor, it will be the last appearance of the latter five until they make their bid for provincial honors against Vancouver on Friday. The Red Birds are Island senior champions, and although the Harmony are known to be worthy opponents, Bill Erickson's five are expected to still be in the competition to to-night's struggle is over.

HIGH FAVORITES After their great win over West Road, Coach Claude Campbell's High School five will be favorites to win this game from Keating to-night. The high boys are traveling at a fast clip, and if they play the same caliber of ball as they have shown in the past they should chalk up another win to-night.

Archie McKinnon promises that the teams fighting for the junior honors will put up a great game, as they are all keen students of the game.

Bob Whyte and Albert Martin will handle the games to-night. The complete card follows: 7:30, Junior Y.M.C.A. championship—Jolly Rogers vs. Lindes.

8:15, Women's semi-final—Harmony vs. Red Birds. 9:00, men's "B" semi-final—Keating vs. High School.

Probable starting line-ups follow: Harmony—D. Perry, A. Lalonde, I. Alexander, M. Peden, E. Mathews, B. Armstrong, M. Hall and B. Macmurchie. Red Birds—T. Henry, B. Peden, M. Motion, M. Wilson, Kay Wellburn, J. Edwards, D. Lea, B. Boyce and C. Atherton.

Keating—Schaff, Mitchell, B. Mitchell, G. Murchant, Atkinson and Bates. High School—Sheppard, Patrick, Chapman, Shields, Petch, MacDonald, M. Patrick and McKenchie.

A.O.F. Hoopsters Will Hold Dance

One of the many features of the evening will be an exhibition of tap dancing by Miss Mona Jewell. Fred Pitt's orchestra will play the latest dance hits from 10 to 1 p.m. There will be spot-light dancing and prizes will be given.

Roy Will Meet Hackett in Title Bout To-night

Montreal, Que., April 9.—Fresh from victory in the Stanley Cup series, the Canadiens Hockey Club turn from hockey to open the spring and summer card season with forty rounds of boxing at the Forum to-night, featuring a title bout between Leo (Kid) Roy, Canadian featherweight champion, and Sammy Hackett of Toronto, who not so long ago took a judges' decision over the champion in a non-titular bout in the Queen City.

WRESTLING IS HANDED BAD KNOCK

N.Y. State Athletic Commission States All Mat Men Are "Hippodromers"

Officials Suspect Collusion; Promoters Must Call Bouts "Shows"

New York, April 9.—Wrestling, that highly entertaining but much abused sport, took a pummeling yesterday from the New York State Athletic Commission. Taking the attitude that all wrestlers were guilty of hippodroming until proven innocent, the solemn sods decided that the term "match"—indicating "contest"—could not be applied to the New York State limits. When the big thunder and thud men gather, the proper terms are "shows and exhibitions" and promoters must so label the ballyhoo.

Commissioner William Muldoon, whose eighty-five years of wisdom include a complete understanding of wrestlers and their customs, led the attack that coincides with the recent agitation against wrestling within the thirty-two states and territories of the National Boxing Association. The ancient Muldoon, a heavyweight wrestling champion, manager and promoter many years ago, has been conducting an investigation himself at recent bouts here.

While no official statement of explanation was made, the commission indicated the stronger action against suspected "hippodromers" was the second setback professional wrestling has suffered within ten days. On April 1, the N.B.A., which attempted to regulate the sport and conduct tournaments to new champions, announced that it had washed its hands of further attempts to clean up the game among heavyweights. Stanley M. Lewis, N.B.A. president, said then that heavyweight wrestling was a secret arrangement and suitable opponents, and had no desire for honest competition.

BELONG TO COMBINE For some time a feud has been on between the camps of Gus Sonnenberg, Dartmouth graduate, who brought new life into the game several years ago with his football flying tackle, and Richard Shikat, a German. Each claims the heavyweight championship. Repeated efforts so far have failed to bring them together in a bout that would definitely decide the controversy. Shikat has been recognized here as the heavyweight titleholder. Sonnenberg won the title recognition by throwing "Strangler" Lewis, but both are attached to the same man combine.

BROOKS TO SHOW AGAIN

Victoria Iron Man Matched With Young Jackson on Saturday's Card

"Rocky" Brooks, Victoria grappler, who made such a good showing last Saturday night at the Armories against Kara Aslan Pasha, the Terrible Turk, is going to be given another opportunity of displaying his knowledge of the game on Saturday night at the Tillamook gymnasium. Brooks is matched with Young Jackson, Bremerton mat man, in the semi-windup to the Hansen-Miyake bout, which is scheduled to go five eight-minute rounds.

The local exponent of the grappling racket is training hard for the coming match in hopes of chalking up his initial victory here. Jackson will come well recommended and should be able to give a good account of himself against the Victoria Iron Man.

The Hansen-Miyake bout is arousing plenty of interest. The many fans who have heard of Hansen over the air are more than anxious to see him in action. The fact that he is matched with the fast and clever Miyake, former ju jitsu champion, is adding interest to the bout which promises to be exceptionally good.

AMERICAN LOOP NOW HAS EDGE

Take Lead Over National League Ball Clubs in Exhibition Games

Washington Leads Individual Clubs By Three Straight Wins Over Boston

New York, April 9.—Winning all seven inter-league exhibition games played in the past week, the American League clubs forged ahead in the annual spring baseball warfare between them and the National circuit. The American League has won twenty-nine of the fifty-seven games played so far and the National twenty-two. One was tied.

The Washington Senators, picking up the Boston Braves in three successive games, took the lead in the league against-league standing, while the Braves, former leaders, dropped to sixth place. The Senators have not lost a game to a National League club in the exhibition series, while the Braves have won more than half their games.

Washington also leads in the standings for all exhibition games, having won twelve of their games against major and minor league opposition. Yesterday's results in exhibition games follow:

Jackie Fields Wins Bout By Technical K.O.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 9.—Jackie Fields, welterweight boxing champion, scored a technical knockout over Tommy Freeman, of Erie, Pa., in the fifth round of their scheduled ten-round non-championship bout here yesterday evening. Fields weighed 148, Freeman 150.

The bout was a slugfest, with Freeman, staggered by a right to the jaw in the first round, Freeman appeared groggy, but fought his way clear. In the second, Fields battered Freeman around the ring with hard lefts to the jaw. This continued in the third and Freeman went to the floor. He arose and landed an uppercut flush on the champion's jaw. Freeman was too far gone to take advantage. In the fourth, Fields smashed Freeman with rights and lefts. An artery in Freeman's lip broke, and Freeman, on the advice of referee, refused to allow Freeman to come out for the fifth round due to the flow of blood.

BRISTOWE WINS TWO TITLES IN SCHOOL BOXING

Knocks Out Brinkley For Light Heavy Honors and Beats Hess in Open

Plenty of Good Footwork and Heavy Hitting at University School Show

Giving pretty exhibitions, with plenty of heavy hitting and good footwork in the senior divisions, boxers of the University School drew rounds of applause from the crowd of students, parents and friends that packed the gymnasium for the annual championships yesterday evening.

Reg. Bristowe, slashing young light-heavy, gained major honors in the show by stopping Brinkley in the first round of their scheduled three-round bout in that division, and then stepping into the heavyweights and outpointing Hess with a snappy third round rally.

The complete list of new champions follows:

Junior class, seventy-five pounds—Holsten II, Victoria.

Junior class, ninety pounds—Holsten I, Victoria.

Junior class, 100 pounds—Blakey, Calgary, and Tulk, Vancouver, battled to a draw.

Pitweight—Stapella, Calgary.

Featherweight—Alvensleben, Seattle.

Lightweight—MacKie, Calgary.

Lightweight—Griffin, White Horse, and Carlie, Calgary, battled to a draw.

Welterweight—Mason, Victoria.

Middleweight—Boyce, Seattle.

Light-heavyweight—Bristowe, Victoria.

SCORES E.O.

After knocking Brinkley cold in the first round of their bout, Bristowe issued a challenge to Hess, 180-pound heavyweight contender, and after three rounds of fast milling, won the unanimous decision of the judges and referee.

In the middleweight division, Boyce hit his way to victory over Hill, who, after putting up a good fight, was knocked out in the final round by Boyce's aggressive attack.

Mason defeated Drum for the welter title in a good bout that saw the two fighters all the way. Mason's hard straight left inflicted plenty of damage to the other lad and was virtually responsible for the win.

Pretty footwork and plenty of punching power made the lightweight fight between Griffin and Carlie one of the best on the card. The event ended in a draw.

SPIRITED BOUT

In another spirited bout MacKie gained the decision over Carpenter, while Alvensleben, taking advantage of his height and reach, won the baton title from Swanson.

Kenn rivalry with plenty of willingness to mix featured the exhibition of the younger lads, who put up good showings.

A. G. Bolton, managing director of the school, refereed all bouts, while Russell Kerr and James Grant acted as judges.

At the conclusion of the programme, Major Ian Simpson, headmaster, expressed his thanks to the visitors for their interest in the school's athletic activities, and congratulated the boys and their instructors on the excellent standard of boxing they had displayed.

Five C's, last year's champions: Tillamook Club, Hudson's Bay and T. & V. had delegates present, and all stated that the clubs would be seen in action again this year. There is a possibility that the Navy will enter a team.

Games have been arranged with the Wednesday League officials in Vancouver, the first of which will be played in Victoria, July 1, while the return match will be carried out on the mainland, Labor Day.

Rest Best Cure For Staleness

By SOL METZGER
Now is the time for basketball players to start fumbling, lose both pep and interest and find themselves unable to take advantage of openings that always before led to scores. True, fumbling may be due to poor passing or too much speed. But even so, it now occurs when the passing is O.K.

For some reason the receiver cannot execute those almost instinctive habits of keeping his eyes on the ball and of catching it in his fingers with arms extended to gradually break its force.

The main trouble is fatigue, or staleness. The players are a bit sick of it all. Probably too much mental strain is the reason. Or it may be too much practice. Whatever the cause, the cure is rest. Take it easy and store up energy, both mental and physical.

That's the final advice we wish to give in closing this series about a great indoor game. Hope you liked them. Hope, too, you'll be as keen for another similar series starting next December as we will be to write it. So long until then.

At the Top of the Ladder

By JIMMY THOMPSON

They say you have to go through all the stages of the game to become the head-man of the same sport. Well, maybe it's so but there are at least two outstanding instances where this rule does not hold good. In one of the world's leading professional organized sports namely hockey, we find that President Frank Calder never chased a rubber up and down the boards in organized hockey in his life and yet to-day he stands as the head of the world's greatest professional hockey league. In professional baseball we have the popular and well-known Judge Landis who rules the destinies of baseballdom with an iron hand. Yet, it is pointed out, Landis was never known to have played organized 'all in his life, and jumped from handing out justice from a court bench to handing out justice over baseball decisions.

CONFESSES TO ATTIC MURDER

Eight-year-old Los Angeles
Mystery on Verge of Solution

Los Angeles, April 9.—Following closely upon the confession of Otto San Huber, alias Walter M. Klein, that he is the mysterious "man in the attic" who eight years ago fired the shot that killed Fred Oestreich, wealthy garment manufacturer, Deputy District Attorney James Costello early today announced that the arrest of others implicated in the slaying is momentarily expected and the case will be cleared up "within twenty-four hours."

IN SECRET COMPARTMENT
San Huber, arrested Monday on suspicion of murder, late last night told Costello that he shot Oestreich on the night of August 22, 1922, when he believed that Mrs. Walburga Oestreich was being hurt during a quarrel with her husband. He said he was resting in the secret compartment attic of the Oestreich home, when he heard the couple come in and start violently quarreling.

"I thought Mrs. Oestreich was being killed," he said. "I grabbed my little pistol and ran from the room. When he fired me I fired. I ran upstairs and went to the little room. I was stiff with fright."

San Huber's confession climaxed a revived investigation of the murder inspired by an article filed by Herman S. Shapiro, Attorney, in which he asserted that Mrs. Oestreich, who was arrested and held for nearly two years on suspicion of the slaying, told him that her "vagrabond half brother" was living in the secret compartment.

PEACE RIVER NEEDS CLERGY

"Go West Young Man" Is Advice of Rev. F. D. Roxburgh

Toronto, Ont., April 9.—Urging young ministers to "go west, young man," Rev. F. D. Roxburgh, Edmonton, Alta., gave a vivid picture of church conditions prevailing in the western provinces, when speaking last night at the annual convocation at Knox College here.

In the 50,000,000 acres of the Peace River district there are thousands of splendid churches, he said, who are waiting for ministers.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on Rev. Mr. Roxburgh and Rev. Hugh Cameron, Ottawa.

TRIBUTES PAID PATHOLOGIST

William Welsh, Founder of Famous U.S. Medical School,
Eighty Yesterday

Washington, April 9.—Leading an international tribute to Dr. William Welsh, of Baltimore, on his eightieth birthday, President Hoover yesterday characterized the noted pathologist as having contributed "much to the character of the American people and to the relief of suffering and pain."

The President spoke over a radio hook-up that extends throughout the United States and into other countries, participating in the celebration. He described the man who founded the Johns Hopkins Medical School, as "our greatest statesman in the field of public health."

In reply, Dr. Welsh, vigorous and alert, but modest, stepped to the front of the platform and accepted the plaudits, not on his own behalf but for an "army of teachers whose work has advanced the science of medicine."

Financial Worries Drive Saskatchewan Farmer to Suicide

Weyburn, Sask., April 9.—The remains of Steve Bavis, young farmer of the McTaggart district, charred beyond all recognition, were discovered yesterday buried under the ashes of a freshly burned straw pile in the McTaggart district.

The discovery was made by members of the Weyburn detachment of the R.C.M.P. under the direction of Sergeant W. Schuch, after a district-wide search had been made by the police following the disappearance of Bavis Saturday.

Dr. H. E. Englehart, coroner, Weyburn, was summoned by the police, and after viewing the remains, and taking into consideration the apparent circumstances surrounding the death of young Bavis, deemed an inquest unnecessary, stating that it was a clear case of suicide on the part of the deceased while of unsound mind due to financial and other worries.

Months Behind

They were having an argument on the relative merits of their respective cars, and became very heated.

"I tell you," said Bill, "I have not paid a shilling for repairs on my car during the whole eighteen months I've had it."

"So the man that does your repairs tells me."

He's Willing

"I don't care what you say, young man," said the landlady, "you're not leaving this house till your bill is paid."

"Ah, well," remarked the other, "I suppose that I must make the best of it. What is this town like on Christmas?"

"Public opinion should see to it also."

"The people of Vancouver will have to keep a watchful eye over the whole university situation. The university should not be allowed to retrograde from the high position which it now occupies, and partisan control should not be tolerated for a moment."

$40,000,000 A YEAR PAID

FROM TREASURY AS B.C. TAXES RISE

In this connection the Province is becoming each year more dependent upon the profits from the sale of liquor to carry on administration. I think that this is a great mistake. I believe that the Province should become less dependent, instead of more dependent, upon profits from the sale of liquor to carry on the affairs of the Province. I believe the time has come when the price of liquor should be reduced, and this Province should gradually place itself in a position where it will not be dependent, to any appreciable extent, upon the profits of liquor to carry on administration.

UNFAIR TO CITY MOTORISTS

The municipalities are also deprived of receiving any increase from motor license fees, beyond a fixed sum of $570,000. This Province has been growing very rapidly, and will continue to expand. The more congested the centre of population become, the more expense is entailed in connection with taking care of motor traffic. No matter how much motor traffic may increase, the municipalities will not receive any additional moneys from motor license fees. These additional moneys will go into the Provincial Treasury. It must be remembered that over seventy per cent of the population live in municipalities, which will not receive any increase from motor license fees.

It is the intention of the Government, through the establishment of arterial highways, to take over the construction and repair of certain roads now taken care of in municipalities, other than city municipalities. Over 2,000 population, and this is made one of the excuses for the Government limiting motor license fees payable to the municipalities.

"As a matter of fact, the municipalities which benefit from the establishment of arterial highways, will foot the bill just the same, by reason of the fact that individuals within those municipalities such as you in Victoria, will now pay not only the former gasoline tax of three cents, but will pay the additional tax of two cents, so that while the municipalities will nominally as a municipality be relieved of some expenditure, the citizens living within that municipality will have to pay just the same, but they will pay to the Provincial Government."

MOTORISTS DECEIVED

"There is no doubt that the motorists of this province were under the impression that with the increase of gasoline tax, that motor license fees would be reduced, and that both license fees and gasoline tax would be used exclusively for highway purposes. The fact of the matter is that revenue from both these sources will go into consolidated revenue, and will be used not merely for highway work, but for the ordinary purposes of the Government."

Everyone will recall that prior to coming into office, members of the present administration told the people, without any equivocation, that motor license fees would be substantially reduced. Now, the fact of the matter is that not only have taxes not been reduced, but they have been substantially increased, and without any legitimate reason, because it was not essential for the Government to embark upon the extravagant policy which it has, and it is certainly not the public interest to increase the cost of civil government as this administration has.

PARTISAN COMMISSIONS

"During the short life of the government, it has appointed innumerable commissions, always partisan, and, as results have shown, most incapable. Only after endless argument have we been able to drag reports of these commissions from the government, and in some instances the government refused to make a return of the reports, and even where a return was passed an order that a return be made, return has not yet been made. Many of these reports were so incompetent that they had to be rewritten."

"A commission was appointed in connection with the University Endowment Lands. When return was made to the House, not all the evidence was submitted. We are now to have another commission in connection with the University, and there is every evidence to indicate that the government propose to exercise partisan control over the university. I believe we should keep politics out of our university."

"The people of Vancouver will have to keep a watchful eye over the whole university situation. The university should not be allowed to retrograde from the high position which it now occupies, and partisan control should not be tolerated for a moment."

"Public opinion should see to it also."

"If provincial governments propose to use provincial government power to defeat the government at Ottawa, the government at Ottawa will feel constrained to use the power of the federal government to defeat the provincial governments, and we will have disunion throughout our land."

FIGHT AGAINST TAMMANTISM

"I said a short time ago that we are in process of seeing built up a partisan machine of unbridled proportions in this Province. There is no doubt that the power of that machine will be used in the next federal campaign."

"It seems a great pity that the same old fight against Tammanyism has to be fought out again in this Province, but that is the future which we have to face, and the sooner all the people know it the better."

Pony Express Carried Mail Across Plains

To-day we celebrate the birthday of a great event, an event that has always interested boys and girls. It was exactly seventy years ago to-day that the pony express started across the plains.

In those early days there were no trains to carry the mail across the west, which was then being settled.

So the pony express was started, to carry the mail quickly.

On the same day, two riders set out, one from San Francisco, the other from St. Joseph, on the Missouri River, one going east with mail, the other west. There were "stations" on the way. Each rider rode fast and far until he came to the changing point, and then another fresh rider and fresh horse took the mail and went on.

The men of the pony express were brave pioneers. They suffered from cold and hunger, and many of them were killed by Indians. But somehow, the mail almost always got through. (Copyright, 1930, by Republic Syndicate Inc.)

been made on the part of those feeling solicited for the government that the opposition was criticizing too severely at the last session of the Legislature.

"It is the duty of the opposition to criticize without fear," Mr. Pearson said. "One can almost call an opposition the safety valve of good government. The better your opposition the better your government will be."

He explained that at the first Liberal caucus it was decided to let the leader of the opposition alone speak on the Speech from the Throne and thus cut down on the time spent on the debate. He said he did not believe too much in the many members might wish to bring matters affecting their constituency before the House.

GOVERNMENT WASTES TIME

Replying to Government criticism of too much opposition criticism, Mr. Pearson gave House figures as to actual sitting hours. In the first ten days the House sat only an average of one hour and forty-eight minutes; during the second ten days two hours and fifty minutes; during the third ten days, three hours and two minutes, and during the next eight days, eight hours and seven minutes.

"So far the time of the House was concerned, two or three hours a day were wasted by the Government during the first thirty days," Mr. Pearson went on. "The conclusion to be drawn is that the Government was not ready."

"Only the most hardbitten party supporters are satisfied with the present government," Mr. Pearson said. "The most prominent members of the Conservative Party are dissatisfied with this government. Why is this? On reason is that the Conservative candidates during the election deplored the debt increase under the Liberal Government. Now we find they have increased the debt by a far greater amount than during any similar period of Liberal administration."

FALL DOWN ON PROMISES

Mr. Pearson read campaign speeches of Conservative candidates in which they promised alleged extravagance would be stopped; that the alleged pension system would be discontinued and "that strings of every kind would be cut so as economy can be introduced." He also referred to the "Keep the boys at home" cry of certain Conservatives and the providing of more employment for labor. He went on to ask how they had carried out these promises, pointing out that instead of economy the Conservative Government was now spending over $3,000,000 a year more than ever before in the history of British Columbia. He recalled that Conservatives had refused to give the Liberal Government credit for the period of prosperity under the twelve years of Liberal Government, and that prosperity was off and a Conservative Government was in power.

PROBLEMS BEFORE B.C.

Mr. Pearson declared there were two major problems before the province; one was the opening up of the development of B.C.'s natural resources; and the other was the solution of conditions that are causing unemployment. He explained unemployment was worldwide and there were many solutions urged, but one fact was an economic crisis had developed as goods were being produced at a greater rate than was the power to consume them. He dealt with B.C.'s production from natural resources with a small population and the need for world markets for the exports from B.C.

"Our difficulty in British Columbia is that we have got too many men working at too low wages," Mr. Pearson said. "If we can impress on our employers that the more prosperous workmen we have the nearer we will come to solution of our problem." He urged Liberals now to lay down

So the pony express was started, to carry the mail quickly.

On the same day, two riders set out, one from San Francisco, the other from St. Joseph, on the Missouri River, one going east with mail, the other west. There were "stations" on the way. Each rider rode fast and far until he came to the changing point, and then another fresh rider and fresh horse took the mail and went on.

The men of the pony express were brave pioneers. They suffered from cold and hunger, and many of them were killed by Indians. But somehow, the mail almost always got through. (Copyright, 1930, by Republic Syndicate Inc.)

JURY FINDS MARKS GUILTY

Nanaimo Jury Convicts Stock Salesman of Converting Client's Money

(Special to The Times)
Nanaimo, B.C., April 9.—Al Marks, alias Rogers, Vancouver, was found guilty by a jury at the opening of the spring assizes yesterday, or having turned to his own account money collected from R. J. Smith, Chemist, in connection with the sale of mining stock for a Vancouver brokerage firm. The jury was out over four hours.

V. B. Harrison was crown prosecutor and Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald presided. The accused was defended by E. H. Cunliffe and Mr. Fleishman of Vancouver.

The charge was that the accused sold stock to J. R. Smith, Chemist, who stated Marks represented H. D. Cameron Limited, selling Coast River Mine shares. Smith paid cheques amounting to $650 to Marks and received 2,000 shares instead of $500.

Donald Corbo, bank teller at Chemist, identified the accused, and remembered him presenting cheques signed by Smith.

Isabel Gussell, bookkeeper for H. D. Cameron Co., stated only $300 had been received by his firm for shares sold by Marks.

Marks gave evidence on his own behalf, stating he received all moneys from Smith and turned it all into the bank because he was "being made a goat." He stated he had changed his name from Marks to Rogers because Marks was Jewish and he thought Rogers a better name for selling stocks.

WOULD EXTEND CITY PHONES TO METCHOSIN

Meeting Wants Belmont Exchange in City's New Dial System

One of the largest meetings ever held at the Colwood Hall yesterday evening went on record as favoring inclusion of Belmont exchange within the Victoria telephone system, despite the slight increase in monthly fees involved.

The meeting was called by the Metchocin Farmers' Institute and decided to join with the Saanich Council in representations to the British Columbia Telephone Company in support of inclusion of all three rural exchanges, Albion, Belmont and Colquhoun in the Victoria system.

The meeting represented Colwood, Lantzville, Happy Valley, Langford and Metchocin and was strongly in support of replacement of the present telephone instruments by the new dial type. Action will be taken to urge the subscribers to Albion and Colquhoun exchanges to join in a strong demand that the fullest extension possible of the new system be made by the Telephone Company.

The meeting was informed that, of the three rural exchanges near Victoria, the Belmont system would be the most expensive to incorporate in the reconstructed Victoria service, but that the work would probably be undertaken if a widespread demand for the change was developed.

PEA SEEDS NOW ARRANGED FOR SAANICH FARMS

To ensure uniformity of Saanich-grown vegetables destined for preservation at the Ogdon Point cold storage warehouse for out-of-season sale, special seeds will be provided by H. G. Vegetable seeds are the first seeds made available to growers undertaking to plant acreage, and Mr. Brown has provided a substantial supply of one of the most famous types grown in the northwest—Keston.

The seeds are being distributed by W. Kersey, Veynes Road, Keating, slightly northward of the central packing shed of the Saanich Fruitgrowers' Association. Mr. Kersey's telephone is 303Y and reservations of seed will be made in the order of application.

Solloway Appeals Vye Case Verdict

Vancouver, April 9.—Notice of appeal has been given by Solloway, Mills and Company Limited from a $22,033 judgment in favor of William R. Vye, electrician, in a case against the company.

The appeal, on behalf of the defendant, which had been held liable by a Supreme Court jury to its former master, Vye, will be argued at Victoria in June before the Court of Appeal.

Contemporaneously with this appeal, Solloway, Mills and Company Limited filed a motion for discontinuance of a conspiracy claim against Vye, Vaughan Moore and W. A. Robertson. Damages had been claimed from these three defendants for alleged conspiracy to defraud.

KNIGHTS HEAR OF WEST INDIES

Major M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett Tells of Garrison Life at St. Lucia

An interesting story of garrison life in the West Indies was given by Major Kirkpatrick-Crockett, City Lands Commissioner, in an address before the Knights of the Round Table, at the Empress Hotel last night. Major Kirkpatrick-Crockett formed one of a party of fifty Victorians from the former Fifth Regiment, C.G.A., who were stationed at St. Lucia during the early days of the war.

In an instructive talk, the speaker sketched intimate scenes from the life of the islands of St. Lucia, Martinique and Barbados. Photographs of the city of Castries and other places of interest in the romantic setting of the West Indies were touched in an address that was heartily received. The speaker is an amateur photographer of acknowledged ability, and a series of beautiful views added charm to an instructive address.

CANADIAN STATION HEARD IN HUNGARY

Even when inter-continental broadcasting was exceptionally unusual, private owners of plants were doing their best to keep the Canadian station heard in Europe in the first to be known in Europe in the radio world. Word to this effect was received here to-day from Rainy River, Ontario, where Charles May, operator of a small station, recently had an acknowledgment from Budapest, Hungary, of a programme he sent over the air late last year.

TRAVEL IS STARTING TO MOVE HERE

California Movement Will Be Well Up to Average, Says H. J. Wilson

Easterners Who Have Been Wintering in South Returning This Way

Travel from the more populous centres of California to Victoria and Vancouver Island will be right up to the average this season, in the opinion of Herbert J. Wilson, manager of the Empress Hotel, who has just returned to the city after spending the last month in southern California.

"Victoria is going to get its full share of California travel this year, of that I am convinced," said Mr. Wilson in an interview to-day. I had plenty of opportunity of sizing up the travel trend and I can assure that it looked most promising to me.

FAVORABLY KNOWN

"Victoria is well and popularly known in California and it seemed that every other person I met assured me that it was their intention to pay a visit here some time this summer."

"There are a lot of people down there who usually spend some part of the year in Victoria and they appear to be all coming back this season."

The movement in this direction would not be felt to any marked degree until June, although easterners who have been wintering in California are beginning to come back this way, said Mr. Wilson.

RESERVATIONS MADE

"I heard of quite a number of parties who plan to pass through this city en route from the south to points in the middle and eastern states," he said.

"This class of travel is beginning to make itself felt right now, for we are daily getting applications for reservations."

An entente cordiale appears to exist between the people of California and British Columbia and this is more particularly emphasized through the medium of travel, added Mr. Wilson.

Apart from the regular travel movement through the established train and boat services, the indications are that many Californians will motor here during the season, he observed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson met a large number of Victorians while they were in the south. They golfed at Del Monte and Pebble Beach, and visited San Francisco, Los Angeles, Hollywood and all the big beach resorts, and made a flying excursion to Agua Caliente.

PARKS VISITED BY COMMITTEE

Headed by Mayor Anson, accompanied by city representatives, Councilors Hagen, Borden and Somers, with R. S. Sewell, joined Reeve Crouch for Saanich.

The joint committee planned to inspect park and beach lands at the Cowi, Mount Tolmie, Mount Douglas, Cadboro and Cordova Bays, and to return to Elk Lake for a luncheon recess.

DUNCAN WILL HAVE VETERANS' CLUB SHORTLY

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, April 9.—Wheat again showed strength at the start this morning, opening about 1½¢ higher than the previous close, but like the last two days, the early figures proved to be the high points for the day.
The strength at the start was based on the cables which did not follow the break on this side yesterday, and to the continued dry weather over the winter wheat belt, but the buyers' power was very slim and the opening bulge was all lost in a short time. Around mid-session there was a report that France will restrict further export of wheat and this brought in some buying both here and Chicago, and both markets advanced to the high market, but the advance was not held.
Trade was all local in character, with a little commission house buying at times. The pool sold a little wheat around top levels, but as a rule offerings were light, with buyers on the dips and unloading on the upturns. There was no outside interest shown. Seaboard estimated sales around 500,000 bushels, mostly Manitoba, but local exporters confirmed only a few scattered loads worked overnight. The local cash market continued quiet, with just a moderate demand for most grades.
The weather was warmer in the west yesterday, with temperatures running around 75 over Saskatchewan. Many farmers are at work on the land, and seeding will be fairly general in another week providing the weather remains favorable.

The situation in the west is causing some anxiety, there being a great shortage of moisture, but this situation can be remedied any time during the next four or five weeks. The dry situation in the southwest is the chief factor in the market at the present time and brings in some buying, while there is no aggressive selling.
Coarse grains: These markets were all somewhat firmer, with upturns in wheat, but trade volume was very light and there was no selling pressure in wheat with eastern Canada.
Flax: There was nothing doing in flax and the market was very quiet.

MOTORS, UTILITIES AND AMUSEMENTS STOCKS TO-DAY

New York, April 9.—(By Associated Press.)—A late buying movement in American Telephone on the New York Stock Exchange to-day lifted the shares to 274, duplicating the year's peak and representing an overnight gain of six points.

Other investment utilities also advanced briskly. Brooklyn Union Gas climbing 6½, Public Service of New Jersey 4½, and Consolidated Gas and Standard Gas and Electric 3½. All Reduction 5½.

The stock market turned strong to-day after an early period of irregularity.

Trading showed a tendency to turn dull on the declines and to increase on the rallies.

New York, April 9 (B.C. Bond)—At ten close of the market this afternoon the Dow Jones average of thirty industrial stocks stood at 291.15, up 2.79 points for the day; for twenty rails at 107.85, up 0.17 points; and for twenty utilities at 107.85, up 2.55 points.

New York, April 9.—Besides a few of the blue chip specialties, the bullish trade to-day swung into the motors with Auburn, shooting up from 258 to 260½, and General Motors reaching 3½. Chrysler was under heavy buying, led by Stafford, and rose from 40½ to 41½.

General Electric rose from 89½ to a new high at 94½.

AMUSEMENTS ACTIVE

In the amusement section, Loew's Inc. moved up from 87½ to a new high at 90. This was accompanied by the report that Radio-Keith-Orpheum might acquire Loew's.

Before selling for Europe to-day, John K. Raskob stated that he was interested in Warner Bros. Pictures because he was of the opinion that it was one of the best managed and best organized companies in the amusement field.

"I believe," he said, "that Warner Bros. will continue to do a very satisfactory business, and looking ahead it would appear to possess attractive possibilities along with the future of the motion picture industry."

As to the question whether he expected to be elected a director of the company, Mr. Raskob stated he did not anticipate becoming a director.

RADIO OFF

Radio Corporation continued soft to-day, slumping from 59½ to 57½.

U.S. Steel common was quiet, trading between 193½ and 194½.

MONTHLY WARD CLIMBS

The bears were on the defensive in Montgomery Ward, which pushed up from 39½ to 43½.

Dupont rose from 139 to 143½.

Amesbury recovered from 75½ to 76½.

UTILITIES STRONG

Utilities were strong, with American Telephone rising five points to 273½.

Consolidated Gas moving up from 128½ to 132½.

Light from 113 to 117.

Westinghouse Electric from 185 to 190½, and Public Service of New Jersey from 112 to 117½.

SALES OVER FIVE MILLION

Call money eased from 4 per cent to 3½ per cent.

Sales for the day totaled 5,180,800 shares.

KRESGE HAS DEFICIT

New York, April 9.—Kresge Department Stores Inc., for the year ended January 31, 1930, reports a deficit of $243,229 after depreciation and charges and taking into account one-half year's losses of Kresge Department Stores Corporation, against a profit of $506,206 in the preceding year, excluding the Kresge Store Corporation.

New York, April 9.—Timken Roller Bearing is reflecting the better feeling towards motor accessory shares.

While the company's earnings still are dependent in a large measure upon the motor industry, Timken is making rapid progress in diversifying its output and during the last year added many new consumers here and abroad to its list of customers.

CRUDE OIL OUTPUT CUT

New York, April 9.—California crude oil production was 620,700 barrels daily for the week ended April 5, a decrease of 10,400 barrels, according to the American Petroleum Institute estimates.

MOST LOOK FOR DECLINE

New York, April 9.—Wally Street Mirror to-day issued the following advice to its clients:

"Further selling will be seen in the stock market."

The weekly trade reviews of the steel industry, which will make their appearance to-day, are expected to show a sizeable falling off in production.

"Stocks in the Tuesday trading were up and down during the greater part of the session. The short-lived rally in the rails was used to cover selling operations in other directions."

"Sentiment in the financial district is still quite mixed, but those looking for a decline or advising caution far outnumber those who are urging that stocks be bought at current levels."

BIG RISE FOR CON. GAS

"Consolidated Gas is another issue which should be added to the list of those to be bought on reactions. Consolidated Gas will have an extremely sharp active advance within the next sixty days. Something big is ahead for this issue."

R-K-O. MAY GET LOWS

"More is now being heard of the possibility of Radio-Keith-Orpheum acquiring Loew's from the Fox Theatres interests. Such a move forecast by this service when the Fox troubles first came to light. R-K-O. needs more theatres and the acquisition of the Loew chain is now believed close at hand. In some quarters, an exchange of stock on a two-for-one basis is predicted."

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, April 9.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

RALLY TO-DAY

"Relative strength at a week-end with carryover in the first session of a new week has, on many occasions, brought what is known as a normal Tuesday reaction, and I believe that normal Tuesday reaction is what should be applied to yesterday's market. This being the case, look for a turn about in the general list to-day and for a substantial rally to be under way before the end of the first hour."

"I believe that we are getting simply technical correction in a considerable number of issues wherein the advance in the past week to ten days has been particularly rapid, plus a fair amount of profit taking induced by the many predictions of reaction and finally, a very considerable amount of short selling, a large part of which was concentrated in U.S. Steel yesterday."

"With all the talk of reaction, industrial averages lost less than a point and a half from Monday's new high record for 1930, while the rail group either maintained its ground or gained slightly on the day. Such sessions as yesterday's market eliminated reaction possibilities. I believe the market headed higher before any additional reaction possibilities need be considered."

COMMENT

"General Motors, despite an adverse market, recorded a new top for the year yesterday, and maintained its position as the gain to close at the best closing price of the year. Expect this issue to feature the market to-day and for further new tops to be recorded in the remainder of the week. With General Motors advancing, nothing but a similar performance is to be expected from Dupont."

"Associated Dry Goods was maintained close to the previous session's new top for the year. Do not expect an increase in the dividend at the next meeting, but look for the following one to produce an increase and hold the possibility of a stock dividend in addition."

"I expect a satisfactory solution to be found within the next few days on the so-called Unification Bill at Albany, and believe we are to witness in the relatively near future new tops for the year in Brooklyn Manhattan Transit, Interboro & Manhattan Modified and later on higher prices than have been witnessed for the stocks in many years."

"The oil group under the leadership of Standard Oil of New Jersey, will soon feel the influence of an advance in crude oil prices, the first forward price being taken yesterday when gasoline prices were advanced in the New York District, which has come to be the most highly competitive district in the world."

"The advance of the utilities is not finished, and the members of this group should be headed for better prices."

GRANBY NEARLY DOUBLES PROFITS DURING 1929

The surplus at the end of the year amounted to $2,021,412, as against $775,936 in the previous year.

MAKES GOOD SOUPS BETTER

The Princess and the Perjurer

Allan Hillgarth

Once, in my wanderings, I had met a man of that sort, a dilettante artist from the Ukraine, and we travelled a month in company. Like the average student of either sex, he had a habit of intense introspective brooding; a curious mental lethargy liable to sudden fevers of enthusiasm, and the chaotic ideas of the unphilosophical fatalist. But he had more than that. Speaking and writing half a dozen languages with absurd facility, he moved through life as if he didn't belong to it, wandered from city to city and hand to hand with no definite aim in view, yet never, apparently, aimless, and created in all who met him both liking and respect. Of Russian and Eastern theosophy, literature, music and art, he knew more than many acknowledged masters. He was a drier and a dreamer, yet he had constructive ability of a remarkable order, when he chose to exercise it. The fact was he knew so much, almost as if he had been born knowing it, that he never cared to apply himself to anything in particular. His theories were legion, some rather far fetched but all brilliant, though everyone of them was colored by his almost supreme air of unworldly detachment.

When, therefore, in that dingy little drink shop I recognized his counter-part, I was so interested that all thought of my danger slipped instantly from my mind. The room was warm, the door in closing had shut out the snow and the cold, and very Russian brandy was already unfreezing my veins. Before I realized anything unusual had happened, the stranger was seated at my side and we were deep in conversation.

To this day I can't tell exactly how it began, nor can I remember half of what he said to me or I to him. I know we didn't ask for one another's names and that it seemed entirely natural to plunge into a metaphysical discussion with a complete stranger at two in the morning in a vodka den, and doubtless our arguments gained confidence as a result. At some stage we must have embarked on ethnology, for I remember my new friend assuring me that language was no key to racial distinction. About three o'clock we were comparing impressions of Turkish mentality, from that drifted to the Tatar and the titles of Central Asia. He had visited them all, it seemed, and knew their histories, their customs, their mysticisms, their very souls. He spoke of the Persian desert, of buried temples, of lost civilizations, of ancient religions kept alive in out-of-the-way villages. About four o'clock we were talking of Russia.

He began to monopolize the conversation, but I didn't mind. "It was all foretold," he said dreamily, speaking in the Russian Revolution. "It was in the stars, had anyone cared to look for it. Only a fool expected anything else. . . . Some people insist on telling me that the Jews caused it, but that isn't true. There were, of course, hundreds of them in the various sections of the movement, some organizations being composed entirely of Jews. They are conspirators by nature, they have suffered injustice from the Russian for centuries. But they were a small percentage of the whole, and many of them, while professing as revolutionaries as their comrades, were strict Chasidim and consequently incapable of subscribing to the whole revolutionary program. The others, although Jews by blood and not by religious conviction, in fact outcasts from every race including their own, had a greater influence but nothing approaching the power they have to-day. When the Minimalists and Maximalists finally split, these alien Jews gained control of the more extreme party, which still contained a few Russians, those who were members of the Liberal and Mensheviks, soon the Liberals had to go, and the Mensheviks ruled, directed mainly by the Trotsky type. Finally came the Second Revolution and the triumph of Bolshevism, under Jewish leaders of extreme views but with a party overwhelmingly of any kind, be they Jews, Russians, Germans, Poles, Letts, Chinese or Georgians. They have no sense of humor. . . .

"Of course, the madmen in power aren't immortal. I haven't followed it closely, but I know there is a rebellious movement among those who are left of the old Revolutionary intelligentsia, those who are Russians, that is. Many of them are members of the Communist Party; a few are in high positions; the Red Army is being Russianized, they have a certain national feeling and they hate the others, who have none. But what does that matter? I don't let revolutionaries of any kind, be they Jews, Russians, Germans, Poles, Letts, Chinese or Georgians. They have no sense of humor. . . .

"And you?" I asked him at last. "After all, you've said what are your politics?"

"I have none. I help my friends sometimes, but politics are as uninteresting a subject as astrology. I like him, but, when he went. . . . I am a Russian. We are both Russians. All Russians are mad. . . . The Slav's birthright is a disordered mind, a disordered brain, and then there's the Mongol blood that spreads like poison through the race. . . . "Who can understand the Russian? He can't understand himself. Day by day, hour by hour, he changes. He is never reasonable, yet often just; never happy, yet often gay; never consistent, yet generally conservative. He takes his own pleasure in his sorrows; his own passion, yet he is chilled by his own emotion; his spirit is a fire smoldering in a desert of ice; his soul—but we have no soul—we Russians. . . . I felt more he said, and as I listened, I felt that this wasn't real, that it was a dream and that the strange man opposite me would presently disappear. Yet the brandy was real enough. . . . I must have drunk too much, and then with a fresh bottle, and took rolls of thousand rouble notes from me. Talking, talking, we straight, I suppose, have sat at these all night, if there hadn't been an interruption. . . . The door swung open to admit a very tall man, wrapped in a heavy, snow-laden riding cape. As he stepped up to the bar, taking no notice of us, his face came for a moment between us and the light, and I promptly made a dive for the exit. It was Gorki! My companion had followed me, and we were stumbling along together in the snow. Dodging round several corners, I came to a breathless halt.

"Who was that?" asked the man beside me. He spoke rather thickly and, as I didn't answer, he broke into a laugh. All at once I realized he was drunk—had been drunk for a long time. "Never mind," he said gaily. "Let's march. We haven't far to go." But I refused to move. "Where?" I demanded, wondering why I wasn't drunk myself. He laughed again, a perfect roar of laughter, and tried to make me walk on. As I resisted, we both collapsed in the snow. "You don't know!" he gasped. "That's very funny!"

We got up with some difficulty. I was feeling very cold now and rather muddled, but my companion's words sobered me wonderfully. "You Oussipensky!" he said, holding on to me. "Why won't you come on when I ask you to? There's the Princess waiting for you with loving arms—"

"Where you?" I cried roughly. "You don't know?" I'll tell you, who I am. I'm Alexei Sergeievitch Kutusov, the poet. Shall I say it again? Alexei Sergeievitch Kutusov. . . . But I had heard enough. I broke from him and ran. Half drunk as I was, he was even further gone, and although his shouts pursued me for a street or two, I soon out-distanced him. Running and walking, stumbling and falling, I hadn't the remotest idea where I was going or what I meant to do. My one desire was to get away from Kutusov. Suddenly to my joy, a light shone and made for them. A girl, called to the little orphan rabbit. "Come on over to my house and we'll play."

"Thank you, I can't just now," answered Bunty politely. "I am going to freeze." "Freeze?" quacked Lulu in surprise. "How silly! It's no fun to freeze. Besides, I hardly think it is cold enough here for that now, though of course you at the North Pole there is plenty of ice and snow."

"Oh, I don't mean to freeze into a snowball or icicle," said Bunty with a laugh. "But Uncle Wiggily taught us, though, how to go into a safety freeze, which means keeping very still and still if you see a Fox, Wolf or Bob Cat coming."

"Oh, I don't know anything about the kind of freezing," quacked the duck. "I'll tell you, I'll make a big noise and splash in the water and run or fly away."

"Well," said Bunty, "that's a good way, too. Only, of course, we rabbits can neither fly nor swim very well, so we have to freeze and keep quiet until the danger goes away. That's what I'm going to do now—go out in the woods and fields and practice freezing well. Uncle Wiggily taught me. When I learn how to do it better I'll show you."

"Thank you," quacked Lulu and she swam away over the pond while Bunty hopped to the field to practice freezing. For a time Bunty hopped about, pretending to hear danger noises or to be afraid of the danger, but she did this pretending she would stiffen in what looked like a frozen rabbit until she pretended that the danger was gone.

"But I wish," said Bunty with a naughty little twinkle on the end of her pink nose, "I wish some real danger would come along and then I could tell whether I really know how to freeze and escape. Yes, I wish some real danger would come!"

"And all of a sudden, Bunty had her wish, though she didn't know it. For a Boy Scout came across the field carrying a black box. Now Bunty knew that the box was for a rabbit, and she must freeze for were boys and men as well as the Fox, the Wolf or the Bob Cat. So as soon as the little orphan rabbit saw the Boy Scout, not knowing that he was kind and good, she froze as well as she could. That is, she stood very still in her tracks, not moving so much as the tip of her nose or the tip of her stubby tail."

"Ha! That's fine! I can get her now!" said the Boy Scout and though Bunty did not know much about boys, she knew that the Boy Scout was a danger. "Yes, I'll get her now!" "Oh, dear!" thought poor Bunty. "I guess freezing didn't do me any good, or else I didn't freeze enough."

She wanted to start running away, thinking perhaps she could go faster than the boy. But she remembered that Uncle Wiggily had said always to freeze when there was danger and not try to run away unless there was a place to hide like a pile of brush or some logs or a burrow hole. Bunty looked round and she couldn't see a hiding place. So she remained frozen—keeping very still and quiet, hoping, after all, that the Boy Scout would not have seen her. But he had and, pointing the black thing in his hand at Bunty he said: "Now I'll get her!" There was a click as if a little pop gun had been fired. "Oh, I'm shot!" thought Bunty, and she wondered why she didn't fall over. But she didn't. She just remained there frozen as stiff as a toy bunny and the Boy Scout said: "I got a fine picture of that rabbit. But my goodness! I must have scared the poor thing. I'll take another snapshot and then I'll give that little bunny a ride back to the woods, and he said: "That's another good picture. I guess that rabbit has been taught how to freeze. It's good for me she knows about it."

Still Bunty did not move and she was so frightened (though she never had been before) that she never moved when the Boy Scout picked her up and cuddled her in his arms. Then he slung his camera by a strap around his shoulder, jumped on his bicycle, which was hidden in the bushes nearby, and away he rode, carrying Baby Bunty.

"They were Georgians from the mountains. Many such come to Batoum. As you were their prisoner, comrade, you should know more than I do."

"I do," I said briskly. "I don't know how much he knew of Oussipensky's connection with the Dalchidze family or whether he realized exactly how to get away from me to night, and I didn't care, for I was satisfied by his manner that he knew nothing about me. After all, Nina would hardly have told him, and although he was in charge of the Bolshevik 'cell' in Batoum, he was a Centrist and bound to obey her orders without question. Probably he imagined jealousy the cause of her instructions, where I was concerned."

Uncle Wiggily And Bunty's Ride

By HOWARD R. GARIS.

One day, when Baby Bunty was hopping away from the Hollow Stump, Lulu Wiggily finished her lesson. Lulu Wiggily, the duck girl, called to the little orphan rabbit. "Come on over to my house and we'll play."

"Thank you, I can't just now," answered Bunty politely. "I am going to freeze." "Freeze?" quacked Lulu in surprise. "How silly! It's no fun to freeze. Besides, I hardly think it is cold enough here for that now, though of course you at the North Pole there is plenty of ice and snow."

Mr. J. E. Shields entertained the members of the Optimists on Saturday evening, the members enjoying music and contests, the winners of the latter being Misses Irene Peatt, Norma Parker, Corrie Keeliv and G. Oak.

TEN MISTAKES MEN MAKE IN MARRIAGE

THE SIXTH mistake that husbands make is in ceasing to be lovers and being merely husbands. The American husband is the best husband in the world, but he is long on performances and short on soft talk. He wants to say it with breakfast. Instead of orchids, and the chief reason that most men hurry up the wedding day is because they want to get through with the courting and settle back to normalcy in which they will not have to quote poetry, and indulge in high flown sentiment and pose in a romantic role.

There are innumerable perfectly good and devoted husbands whom Cleopatra herself could not vamp away from their plain-faced Marias, and who spend their lives slaving for their families, whose wives are suspicious of them and doubt their affection because they dropped all love-making at the altar and never mentioned the state of their hearts again after they were married.

Now it is the curse of women that they never shed their sweet teeth, no matter how old they get, and that when they are seventy they are still yearning to be told that they are beautiful and fascinating, and to be romantically wooed. It is impossible for them to take their husbands' love for granted, and let it go at that. They want to hear about it over and over again, as a child does a fairy tale, and if every man would include in going his daily dozen giving his wife a piping hot kiss and handing her out a compliment it would keep her eating out of his hand.

The seventh mistake that husbands make is in failing to do something actively to make their wives happy. Most men seem to assume that just being married to them is picnic enough for any woman, and that she can ask nothing else of fate than just the privilege of cooking and scrubbing and patching and mending and bearing children for them.

Thousands of men marry pretty, gay young girls who have been accustomed to having men struggle to see which could give them the best time, and then take them and dump them down by the kitchen stove and hand them vacuum cleaners and say to them, in effect: "Now enjoy yourselves, and we hope you appreciate how lucky you are to be married to us."

Many a wife never even gets taken to the neighborhood movie without a row with her husband that takes away all the pleasure of going. Many a woman never has her husband give her so much as a gumdrop, or bring her a wilted rose.—Many a woman, after a long, dull, monotonous day taking care of the children, has to spend the evening alone after her husband has stepped out to amuse himself, or else has for a companion a dummy that only grunts when it is spoken to.

No wonder such women become dissatisfied and discontented and revenge themselves by becoming naggers, or else go out and have surreptitious dates with men who will take them to places where there is light and laughter that will make them forget the monotonous grind of housework.

Women are funny creatures, and the thing that gets on their nerves more than anything else is feeling that their husbands don't care whether they are happy or not; that their husbands don't care whether they have to work too hard or not; that their husbands don't care whether they have pretty clothes or not. That is why a little treat or a little surprise goes so far with a wife.

It shows her that her husband considered her pleasure, and if all he can afford is a trolley ride she can get as much joy out of that as she would a trip to Europe. It is why a woman will cheerfully work her fingers to the bone, if her husband will only kiss her hands. It is why a woman is perfectly satisfied to wear a bungalow apron if her husband is always bemoaning the fact that he can't dress her up in Paris confections.

There is nothing that a man can do that will pay such a percentage as doing something to make his wife happy, and it is the ones who don't make a little investment of time and trouble and money in amusing Friend Wife who become matrimonial bankrupts.

The eighth mistake that husbands make is in not making companions of their wives. They go their way immersed in business. They let their wives go their way immersed in the children or the house, and before they know it they have lost touch with each other and have no interest in common except the bills and the babies. That is why at middle age so many men suddenly discover that they are in love with their private secretaries, and that they have come to depend upon them for an understanding and a congeniality that they do not find in their wives.

This is a catastrophe to the man as well as to his wife, and it could be avoided if bridegrooms would talk to their young wives about the things they are interested in, or do like one young man I know who, when he saw his bride was beginning to slump, told her that she had to study and read if she expected to hold him, because Dumb Doras bored him to death.

The ninth mistake that husbands make is in not seeing that their wives have plenty of constructive work to do. Every man's idea of being a good husband is keeping his wife in idleness, yet that is the worst misfortune he could wish upon her. It is the women with nothing to do who are neurotic and peevish and fretful, and who fill the sanatoriums and divorce courts.

The tenth mistake that men make is in letting their wives henpeck them. No woman loves or respects the man she can boss.

Which one of these ten mistakes do you make, Mr. Man?
